

Federal probe into GC Steel accident

11 are burned as ladle drops

MILL ACCIDENT. Dense smoke billows from the basic oxygen furnace facility at Granite City Steel Monday evening, moments after a ladle of molten iron fell from a crane into a pit with water in it, causing a reaction which burned 11 employees.

Inspectors for the federal Occupational Safety and Health Agency (OSHA) arrived at the Granite City Steel division of National Steel Corp. yesterday to begin their investigation into the cause of an accident in which a ladle of molten iron was dropped from a crane at about 4:48 p.m. Monday, burning 11 employees, three extremely seriously.

"We are cooperating fully with them (OSHA inspectors). I understand this investigation is a routine part of their job," said Dan Hines, spokesman for GC Steel.

HE SAID the cause of the accident still is uncertain. For some reason, a ladle of molten iron being lifted toward the mouth of a basic oxygen furnace (BOF) was dropped into the auxiliary metal hole, where "torpedo" train cars hold the iron in the ladles for the BOF. Workers say the hole into which the ladle fell is for the purpose of catching molten iron spilled during the pouring.

Hines said recent newspaper reports describing the ladle "tipping over" or metal "exploding" are believed incorrect. He said the ladle fell and most of those injured were believed burned "primarily by radiant heat. I'm not going to say that none suffered metal burns, there may have been some, but most was from radiant heat."

Workers said some metal did explode when it came into contact with water in the bottom of the hot metal hole. They contended a heavy-duty hook on a crane lifting the ladle sheared off or a weld broke, allowing the ladle to drop.

MOST SERIOUSLY injured was George Key, 27, of Edwardsville, who was in critical condition at St. John's Mercy Medical Center in West St. Louis County with second- and third-degree burns to 40 percent of his body. Also at St. John's is Wayne M. Fry, 27, of Granite City, who suffered second- and third-degree burns to 25 percent of his body.

Theodore J. Kocot, 46, of Collinsville, assistant superintendent of the BOF department was in satisfactory condition at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, with burns to his face and chest.

WORKERS admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center with lesser burns were Erin L. Meyer, 30, and Larry G. Finn, 40, both of Granite City. They are recuperating from surgery and were listed as "stable and improved" by a hospital spokesman yesterday.

Harold D. Miller, 49, of Fairview Heights, who also was admitted to SEMC after the accident, was released Tuesday.

Initially treated at GC Steel's Nicholas Veeder Health Clinic and released the night of the accident were Gerald W. Williams, Ray G. Backs, Larry W. Simpson, Thomas H. Mitchell and Ronald F. Hatcher.

HINES DECLINED to comment on reports that the hook on the crane, molded from seven laminated pieces of one-inch steel and made to withstand heavy loads, sheared off. "It is under investigation by safety and operating officials of Granite City Steel," he said.

Neither would he comment on reports that the most seriously injured men were believed on the eighth floor, far away from the molten steel, and were burned by steam. "I don't know where the men were. We are investigating," he said yesterday.

Neighbors residing near the steel mill initially reported what they thought was an explosion which shook their homes. Police were called to assist several residents in checking their homes for damage or broken windows. None were reported by police.

Schools may get tax interest 'windfall'

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Windfall is defined as an unexpected gain or an unforeseen stroke of good luck. Local governmental agencies hope to see that definition fulfilled by the distribution of interest from delayed real estate taxes.

Preliminary estimates are that Granite City schools, the biggest Quad-City area taxing body, might qualify for a $750,000 windfall. The City of Granite City might net $250,000 and other local governments also would receive funds from Madison County.

TAXING BODIES have contended for years that they were entitled to immediate disbursement of their share of the taxes collected annually at the county level.

Failure to receive quick distribution worsened their cash-flow problems and sometimes caused them to borrow heavily, they noted.

Now, a court ruling elsewhere in Illinois has raised the possibility that counties may have to pay to school districts, cities, townships and similar bodies the equivalent of interest for slow tax distributions dating back to Oct. 1, 1976.

THE DISTRIBUTION PACE may have been slow, counties acknowledge, but they add that it did not result from ineptitude. It was due to their desire to invest the collected money for the benefit of county collection offices and other county governmental programs.

Such investments gave the counties additional operating funds and enabled them to rely less heavily on taxpayers, they reasoned.

However, the local-level agencies said a county is entitled to only a slice of the total tax pie. Its tax rate is only a portion of the grand total rate of about $7 per each $100 assessed valuation.

They added that county and local taxpayers are the same people, and that the interest being earned was more than offset by the interest being paid out.

GRANITE CITY schools have multi-million-dollar operating debt, and their yearly interest costs—based on various projections—have reached the $500,000 to $750,000 range.

Many other taxing bodies, including the county itself, are experiencing severe budgetary squeezes, due to the recession and due to the expenses of providing their services increasing faster than the available revenue.

The Illinois Supreme Court has not yet acted on the issue but has agreed to schedule a hearing.

If a Dec. 7 appellate court decision stands, the county would have to raise taxes in order to repay local governments. County Treasurer Michael "Mike" Henkhaus has said, COUNTY COLLECTOR by virtue of his role as treasurer, Henkhaus handles real estate tax collections for most of the 24 Madison County townships.

However, the tax installments paid before Sept. 1 still are collected by townships' elected collectors in some areas, including Quad-City townships.

One estimate is that this county might have to pay $3,660,000 in accumulated interest. Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith disagrees, saying that future (but not past) collections may be affected by the court deliberations.

The 2nd-District Appellate Court said DuPage County should reimburse the Wood Dale Public Library

District and other taxing bodies in that county for the interest earned on realty tax receipts obtained since Oct. 1, 1976.

A CLASS-ACTION suit filed later in Sangamon County against 98 Illinois counties, including Madison County, may not be resolved until the top state court decides the DuPage case.

If a judgment is issued against Madison County, officials say, it might be possible to levy an extra county tax or to issue bonds, utilizing court orders as the authority.

These tax or bond proceeds then would be apportioned among the taxing bodies deprived of interest during the past seven years.

Metropolitan port proposal criticized

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

Strong opposition to creation of a metropolitan port authority was expressed by Carl Ranft, general manager of the Tri-City Regional Port in Granite City, during a panel discussion yesterday at the Clarion Hotel in St. Louis.

"I see no magic at all in the Metro unit," Ranft told the gathering of port and transportation officials present. He warned that a metropolitan authority might destroy much of what has been done by the diversified port districts under the regional guidance of the Bi-State Development Agency.

"THERE WOULD BE read and psychological turmoil in each existing port district by their boards and staffs which would have to be developed by the new authority and its staff. During this time period, real economic progress would be unlikely," Ranft said.

"Quilting Tri-City Regional Port's operations into the fabric of a metropolitan authority would detract, if not prevent progress at Tri-City, at least initially, and do all of this for what purpose?—to create a metropolitan institution, at great cost, which is inherently no better at solving our problems than what we now have," Ranft added.

He admitted there still remain regional issues to solve "which could and should be dealt with cooperatively. We need to organize and pursue each common issue as effectively as possible. We already have the basic institutional framework for coordinated action in place," he contended.

HE SUGGESTED the various port districts carefully re-examine where the region fits into the water transportation system and set long-range goals. Things to be considered should include river shippers, the

'S-no business' for stores after storm

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

There's no business when there's snow business is a theme most Granite City area merchants were singing early this week. The slow business experienced by most retailers was due to approximately eight inches of white stuff that was dumped on the area Sunday and Monday.

Joe Glik, chairman of the board of Glik's Department Store in Bellmore Village Shopping Center, said the foul weather hurt his store's business "pretty dramatically. We had very few customers on Monday and Tuesday," he said.

ACCORDING TO GLIK, of the 13 Glik stores in the Metro-East Area, four of them were not even opened Monday and Tuesday and at least five of them shortened hours.

"On a Monday and Tuesday, we generally do about $10,000 worth of business at all the stores combined, but this week we only did $1,500 combined," he said.

Things at Steinberg Furniture, 19th Street and Edison Avenue, weren't much better. "I'm from Chesterfield, Mo., and I couldn't even get out of my subdivision, much less get over to Granite City to open my store," said Kathy Steinberg, owner.

"THE STORE WAS closed down Monday and Tuesday, but we were able to get into town today," she said in an interview yesterday. "Things look to be pretty much back to normal."

Jan Pyatt, co-owner of Buck and Jan's Den, 2401 State St., said very few customers or employees made it in to the restaurant Monday or Tuesday. "Monday we closed early and vehicle going. Assistant Fire Chief Joe Holder is seen being assisted by one of the many 'good samaritans' who helped motorists get back on the road.

Local board best bet for port

Murphy's law: when something can go wrong it will.

We certainly hope that law does not apply to the operation of the Tri-City Regional Port Authority, which has been making good progress and now is threatened with being taken over by some "super-agency," a Metropolitan Port Authority.

Proponents of the regional agency argue that seven port districts competing against each other for business cannot deal effectively with issues of common good. We disagree. The Bi-State Development Agency is the entity which binds the seven together and serves as watchdog and spokesman for the port authorities jointly.

Through the combined effort, the ports have loudly encouraged a second lock at the new Alton Locks and Dam now under construction.

The combined views of the ports have been heard on issues of user fees, port expansions and improvements, capital concerns and needed legislation. We do not think a super-agency could speak any louder to the Illinois and Missouri legislatures.

We have long maintained that local control is preferable to regional, state or federal control. The Tri-City Regional Port at Granite City is a local facility, operated by a good board of local businessmen and executives. They have done a good job.

The last thing we need is another regional body, probably dominated by Missouri interests, deciding what ports will grow and what ports will not. We saw what happened when plans for a modern new airport in Illinois were developed and Missouri politicians jumped in. Missouri won.

We feel the Tri-City Regional Port is wise in fighting regional control and support port officials in their fight.

Sharing, caring during storm

As the Quad-City area digs out from the worst snowstorm in two years, Quad-Cityans should be proud of the spirit of cooperation shown by most.

We saw many people helping others with their stuck cars out of snow drifts. Police and emergency crews worked tirelessly to aid those in need and to try to re-establish the transportation network, which was virtually destroyed for two days by the heavy snow and high winds.

Many were saved from vehicles which left roadways. A number of these were saved by passers-by who cared enough to stop and help.

We are happy to report that there were no known local deaths caused by shoveling snow or from the cold, even though some rural areas reported losing electricity and heat. Fortunately, unlike the Christmas week storm with its sub-zero temperatures, this week has been mild — a real lifesaver.

A tip of the hat to those who braved the cold and risked getting their own vehicles stuck early this week to help others. That spirit is one of the things that makes the St. Louis metropolitan area a friendly place to live.

Praises the city's paramedics and EMTs

To the Editor:

Being the first person to come upon an auto-motorcycle accident at West Pontoon Road and Hiway 3, Wednesday evening, the 22nd of February, I was very impressed by the paramedics.

From the time the call was made, it seemed like, four or five minutes and the paramedics were there.

As I watched them work, I could see the concern in their eyes. They knew what had to be done and, in a very efficient way, did it.

I think Granite City is very fortunate to have these EMT's and Paramedics, who I think are very qualified.

Again, "Butch" Mink, Mark Evanson and all the rest, God bless you on your missions of mercy.

To the Sports Editor:

I'm writing you in regard to the article you brilliantly composed, along with the accompanying photo that appeared in Thursday's edition of the Press-Record. Needless to say, I was extremely impressed and quite pleased with the whole thing! As you know, our boxing club is currently enjoying one of its best seasons ever and the coverage we've received concerning our success has been absolutely great! The credit here is sent in your direction. A tip of the hat to you for a job well-done! Thanks again, Alan, for the excellent article and your past coverage and assistance! Speaking for all the boxers and coaches, our total gratitude.

People should appreciate free commodities

To the Editor:

I am writing in regards to the cheese giveaway also. I am one of the senior citizens who volunteer our time to try to make a good program and we felt we were doing a pretty good job.

Realize that all the people, including Supervisor Walter Sparks, donate their time free of charge to try to help the people receive their fair share.

Don't these people realize there is a limited amount of each product and no one gets favored. It is first-come, first-served and when it is all given out, it is gone, regardless of whether it be cheese, butter or honey?

Also, don't they realize that Walter Sparks has to have to bother with this program. It is not his job and he does not get paid for this added little consideration? He could do like some of the supervisors and refuse to be bothered with it. Then the people would get nothing. There would be no reasons for complaining.

Maybe some of the people who don't approve of the way it is handled should volunteer to help with the work.

Twenty-four additional cases of measles were reported Wednesday and yesterday to Mayor A.M. Jennings, making a total of 48 under quarantine at the present time and the number still mounting. It was estimated by Mayor Jennings that there are considerably over 100 cases of the contagious disease in Granite City, if they were all reported.

While the situation does not appear to be alarming, its seriousness is beyond question, since there has been a steady increase in the number of cases and a gradual spreading of the disease.

The first few cases of measles and those afterward that ran the total up to approximately 40, were confined for the most part in East Granite.

There has been one death as a result of the disease since the epidemic started here.

A modern interior and colonial style exterior to conform with the remainder of Granite City High school are being planned for the largest of two additions to be started this year.

In recommending the older type of architecture to the school board, Supt. Harold M. Kaiser and Architects Henry Gabriel and Sylvester Dulgoff noted that the existing high school building is worth several million dollars. While a colonial addition may cost more than a contemporary-style classroom structure, the additional expenditure is sound, because this will avoid destroying the overall appearance of the school, they noted.

The other addition, containing 16 to 20 classrooms, is to be built at the northern end of the school, extending out 60 feet at the front to match the present library extension.

A new three-year contract between A.O. Smith Corp. and United Auto Workers Local 1715 was approved by union members in voting yesterday afternoon at the Granite City High School South gymnasium.

The agreement ended more than one month of negotiations on a new contract. The old contract expired Feb. 14, but representatives of both sides agreed to extend it through Thursday when the tentative contract was announced.

Details of the contract were not disclosed, but officials said it calls for increased wages and fringe benefits.

Quad-City residents were asked how they were coping with the heavy blanket of snow that covered the area this week. Their responses follow.

The Rev. David Fielding, Granite City

"It hasn't bothered me too much. But the big thing is the utility rates. I'm pastor of Hope Lutheran Church and our bill is $1,300. It's like that for all the schools and churches. It's the biggest they've ever had. The prolonged (snowy) weather doesn't help. I'm hoping for a moderation in the weather, so utility bills will be reduced."

Patty Hildebrand, Granite City

"I think our street is the only street in Granite City not cleaned off. My little car — a Honda — in those snow drifts doesn't do well."

The Rev. Doyle Ankrom, Madison

"There's no particular problem. I think most people, as with so many things, look for a way to get out of everything."

Says psychiatric ward is no place to be

To the Editor:

If you are not sick when you get here, you will be by the time you leave. This is something to think about if you ever plan on going to St. Elizabeth Hospital for a "nervous disorder" of any kind.

They have two special wards for people with these problems. One is called Kettler "A," and the other Kettler "B." The more seriously ill patients go to Kettler "B," whereas the patients who are rational go to Kettler "A."

Only your doctor can admit you to the hospital, and that's only the beginning. These are locked wards. You cannot go anywhere without a pass from your doctor. One thing to remember after you are admitted is to make sure your doctor orders you something for pain and upset stomach. If you don't the nurses will not give you anything until the doctor orders it, no matter how bad off you may be.

The nurses are very nice people, especially if you ever run into Brenda and Rene, but the rules are ridiculous.

The only entertainment is television and they shut it off during meals and when handing out medicine, which is four times a day. Do you like coffee? Well forget it. It tastes like hot water with cream and sugar, and their food is just about average. The psychiatrists generally give you only a couple of minutes of his time, just long enough to hear how you're doing. They are so busy with patients outside the hospital, they can't or won't spend much time with you.

I was in the hospital fourteen days before I saw my doctor.

If you smoke, bring plenty of cigarettes. They are hard to come by. The hardest thing in the world is not "pulling bent teeth," but getting discharged from these wards. Again, only your doctor can do it.

If you ever have the misfortune of spending a week or two in these wards, bring along enough patience to last.

Parent objects to our roach clip editorial

To the Editor,

This letter is in regards to the editorial about the so-called roach clips sold at a local school. I feel as a parent and PTA member in good standing at that school, another side should be heard. First of all, if we are at fault, then this father had better not shop at any hardware store in this country. They, too, sell alligator clips, minus the feathers. I'm sure they don't ask for an ID or a note from home before they sell these.

Secondly, if this parent was so concerned about the selling of these feathers, why didn't he go to the mothers selling these items and complain. Instead, he goes, after the fact, to the newspaper.

In our economically depressed area, our PTAs are called upon constantly for monetary help. This help is not just for fun type things, but for every day equipment such as film projectors, record players and even standard office machines most companies supply to their employees. Before one condemns our school, they should put forth an effort to participate in their PTA. Your schools need all the help they can get from their parents.

Lastly, Mr. Editor, I feel you did our school and PTA a great injustice by printing that piece before you talked to both parties involved. This was definitely yellow journalism at its finest.

Because of unfair publicity to our school, I ask that my name not be used.

CONCERNED PARENT

(Editor's Note: In an attempt to focus attention on the need for parents and school officials to be aware of drug paraphernalia rather than to "punish" the school, the Press-Record editorial did not name the school or indicate the PTA was in any way involved. The father did not react to stop the sales of the clips at the school because he was not present. He did not know about the incident until his third grader came home with two feathered clips. Certainly, we interjected our feelings and opinions into the editorial. That is what editorials are for. I would hope we will never sway in our conviction to fight drug abuse at all levels and in all forms.)

Lions organizing a crime watch in Venice

To the Editor:

The Venice Lions Club will join hands with our new Lions club to help fight crime. We are asking all interested citizens and businesses to join hands in helping fight crime.

I feel that it's time for all of us in Venice to join hands and make Venice a better and a safer place to live for our children and ourselves, by looking out for each other now in fighting crime. I feel the mayor and the chief of police will and would support this program, along with other city officials.

The program will work like this: Like other communities, Springfield, Ill., parts of St. Louis county and other small areas, there is a cost in making signs that will be placed throughout the city. The signs will read, "Venice is a watch area." This is to let them know they are being watched and someone is looking at all times. These signs will be made out of metal.

Also, there will be a watch patrol. Their vehicle will have a radio. There will be a sign on the vehicle which would read "Venice watch patrol." It will have our Lions emblem on the sign.

We will put patrols in full service for a while, but there is a cost to run a vehicle, such as gas, no one will get paid for their patrol. This will be volunteered through the Lions club.

Their duty will be to patrol the streets. If they see something, they will call the police and, when they come, tell them all they can to help. They will not take any action themselves, but give all they can to the police.

That's what we are asking all interested citizens to do when you see something. Call it in and give the police all you can. There will be a fund set up for this program. It will be called fight back on crime. We will try to have fund raisers to support this program.

There might be some funds out there for a program like this. I will look into it. I would like to hear from all interested citizens, so we can move with the program.

Let's all join hands and fight back on crime. Let's help make Venice a better place to live for all of us. You may write to the Venice Lions Club, Post Office Box 66, Venice, Ill. 62080.

TEACHING EXCELLENCE award is presented at a Granite City Board of Education meeting by Board Pres. David Portney (left) to Harold F. Gebhardt, a chemistry teacher and the science department head at Granite City High School. The plaque given by Community Unit School District Nine recognizes selection of Gebhardt for the 1984 science teacher award of excellence by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The local board and administration cited his "outstanding contributions to education and to the pupils of District Nine."

Larry Siebenberger president of SIIA executive committee

George E. Burkhardt of Clark Oil & Refining Corp., Hartford, was elected chairman of the Southwestern Illinois Industrial Association for 1984.

Burkhardt served as president and a member of the Board of Directors for the year 1983. William Durland of Shell Oil Company, Wood River, elected President of SIIA.

Other members of the Executive Committee are: Vice President Larry G. Siebenberger of Granite City Steel; Vice President Henry McCandless of Amoco Petroleum Additives Company, Wood River; Secretary Norman Letton of Leflon Iron & Metal Co., East St. Louis; and Treasurer Al Zamartone of Reliable-Nesco, Inc., Granite City.

Roger Higgins, of the Nestle Company, Inc., Granite City, is the retiring chairman.

Burkhardt is the 1984 chairman of the United Way for the Riverbend area. Alton, Burkhardt stated, "We will be seeking to continue to work with the Illinois legislature to improve the business environment and help provide jobs for our area."

SIIA monitors developments in Springfield daily, informs the Illinois legislators about the importance of the free enterprise system, established contact between members and the Illinois legislature, and provides voice to the Illinois legislative and governmental agencies.

"SIIA membership includes both large and small organizations in Madison and St. Clair counties and provides a representative sounding board for legislators in Springfield. We need to help improve the business climate for all of Southwestern Illinois," Burkhardt said.

Pontoon Lions blood drive on March 10

The Lions Club of Pontoon Beach in conjunction with the American Red Cross will hold a community blood drive on Saturday, March 10, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Lion's Den II, 3901 Lake Drive. All healthy residents are being urged to roll up their sleeves and give.

The chairman, Lion Larry McKee, stated, "When blood is needed, there is no time for calling donors or drawing blood from family members who have the same type. Blood must be ready and on the shelf in the hospital blood bank. Lives depend on blood's availability."

The fear of contracting AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome) has kept many healthy donors from giving blood. Red Cross takes extreme precautions against infection during the donation process. "There is no risk of contracting disease because the blood bag and needle are fully sterilized and used only once," said Dr. William V. Miller, chief executive officer of the St. Louis B-State Chapter, Missouri-Illinois Blood services.

McKee further stated that "the Red Cross, and more importantly, area hospital patients are counting on the citizens of the village of Pontoon Beach to share their good health. Its easy to donate blood and relatively painless. Most healthy people between the ages of 17 and 65 can give, but the Red Cross requires that all donors weigh 105 pounds or more and have no history of hepatitis, cancer, or heart disease."

McKee can be reached at 876-1396 for those who wish to sign up.

Quad-Cities Soccer may rent park rink

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

The Wilson Park Ice Rink may serve as a spring practice arena for the Quad-Cities Soccer Association, which serves hundreds of local youth.

Soccer Association officers, who spoke before the Granite City Park District Board last week, told commissioners the association needs a dependable playing area during unpredictable spring weather. They did not, however, rule out the possibility of eventually forming an indoor soccer league at the rink.

Commissioners have been searching for a full-time summer use for the ice rink. The park district has its own indoor soccer leagues and conducts community events at the rink, but both functions keep the rink occupied only a small portion of time.

David Nolan, director of parks and recreation, said the expected agreement with the Soccer Association would increase rental income and rink use. "It's what we were looking for," Nolan said.

The group would initially use the ice rink about 25 hours each week, primarily on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays. The teams open their regular season April 7. The association has also been conducting informal and preliminary talks on forming an indoor league.

The association has more than 1,000 players and hopes to bring that number up to 2,000 after an upcoming membership drive. The group will conduct a registration period for girls, ages 4 to 7, and boys, 4 to 13, from 9 to 5 p.m. on Friday and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday at the Harold Brown Recreation Center.

Fees to join are $20 for the first child, $10 for the second and free for the third child.

The group will concentrate its efforts this year on expanding the girls' teams and hopes to finish the year with a strong girls' program.

Park commissioners approved a $10-an-hour rental fee for the Soccer Association. The rent represents an enticement discount from the regular fee of $20 to park teams and $30 to other groups. Commissioners said the fees might be increased if they do not cover expenses.

The Soccer Association group will bring back the fee proposal before its general membership meeting next week, then return to the park board to finalize arrangements.

GC park OKs summer fees

Granite City Park District Commissioners have decided to charge the same fees and keep the same programs this summer.

David Nolan, director of parks and recreation, said the program with the lowest participation last year, the ponytail softball division for girls 8 to 12 — will be promoted to increase interest.

Commissioner John "Jeff" Worthen, finance chairman, had asked board members to consider a uniform charge for each program equal to about half the cost to provide it. Worthen also said the district was inconsistent in its current fee charges for some programs.

"We're here for a service, but I don't think it's wrong to charge 50 percent," Worthen commented. The park has been facing tighter budgets than in the recent past.

Commissioner Barry Loman made a motion to keep the fees the same, and later, if fees appear "out of line," to bring them up in future board meetings. The motion was approved by Commissioners Loman, Worthen and Hood and opposed by Park President George Sykes and member Nancy Sanders.

Brochures outlining summer programs should be available to the community in April. Last year, programs offered and fees charged recited included: playground recreation programs, $1; gymnastics and tumbling, $5; baton lessons, $3; girls' ponytail softball, $3; baseball school, $3; tennis lessons, $5; youth swimming instructions, $3.90, and infant-mother swimming lessons for the cost of adult admissions.

"Costs to non-residents or those without park identification cards are approximately twice the fees charged to those living within the park district limits."

Commissioners also are proceeding with plans to continue the summer Big Band and Gospel Music concert series. The Nestle Co., Inc., will contribute $100 for the band concerts.

In other business, commissioners granted permission for Nolan to talk with the Bricklayer's union about their apprentices constructing a maintenance building addition at Worthen Park. The building would be used to house mowing equipment. According to Nolan, the district is considering keeping a full-time maintenance employee at Worthen Park, where vandalism has been a problem.

The board approved requests from:

—The Lutheran Bureau of the Tri-Cities to conduct its annual Easter Sunrise Service at 8 a.m. on April 22.

—The Parents for Special Education to conduct its annual Easter egg hunt in April at a park district facility.

The Tri-City Trades and Labor Council to use the Wilson Park area near 26th Street for activities following the annual Labor Day Parade Sept. 3. No alcoholic beverages will be allowed on park property.

Winter Carnival to show fast steps and big leaps

The Granite City Park District will host its annual Winter Carnival this Friday at the Granite City High School gymnasium.

The program will feature skills taught youth during the various park district classes conducted this winter in dance, gymnastics, tumbling, baton and preschool instruction. The event will begin at 7 p.m. with an introduction by George Sykes, park board president.

The first performance will feature children from the preschool classes under the director of instructors Lynn McClain and Kathie Hitt. The children will sing "The World is a Rainbow," "Skip to My Lou" and "Take Yourself a Bow Right Now."

Dance selections will feature performances by youth in the first through sixth grades. Instructors are Beth Bodman and Angela Novosel. Musical numbers for the second through sixth grades will be "The Five Positions" and "I Wish that I Could Shimmy Like My Sister Kate."

"The Little Dutch Mill" will be performed by first- and second-grade dancers, Donna Delay and Misty Regan will entertain with a duet dance number, "Me and My Shadow."

Baton students will twirl to the strains of "Following My Leader," "Liberty Tree" "Robert E. Lee" and "Flashdance." Barbara Brandt is their instructor.

Three levels of gymnastics classes will perform under the instructor of Diana Ashai and Pam Dudak. Marsha Faulkner is the group coordinator.

The beginners gymnastics class will perform to Michael Jackson's "Thriller." Intermediate students have selected music by the rock group, "Journey." Advanced classes will perform to "Hooked on Classics."

The Winter Carnival is expected to be about a two-hour program. Admission is free and the public is being invited to attend.

Sanitary District joins grant seekers list

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

The Metro East Sanitary District has joined other communities developing regional sewage treatment district by seeking a $5.8 million matching state grant for the merger.

The fund request is the largest to come from among the four areas in the proposed wastewater treatment district. Granite City is seeking a $2.6 million grant. Madison County Sanitary Sewer Special Service Area 1 has asked for $341,000. Glen Carbon will need about $250,000 to connect with the county's pumping station, which will transfer the sewage to the Granite City plant. Glen Carbon has yet to make its state application, but is expected to be so within the week.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency had set an end of February deadline for applying for 75 percent matching fund grants. The communities will be individually responsible for 25 percent of their total costs.

Walter Greathouse, board president and executive director of the Metro-East Sanitary District, said the district would have needed a $12 million state grant to build its own secondary treatment plant. The district initially fought against a merger with Granite City.

The state has cited the Lansdowne plant in the past for improper operation and maintenance. Greathouse now wants the district out of the treatment plant business, but said the proposed Granite City Regional Treatment Board would require the sanitary district to regulate its own users and bond payments.

The sanitary district president said he wants to avoid criticism likely to come from residents who will have to pay higher rates under the new regional arrangement. An exact rate has yet to be set, but an earlier independent engineering study suggested quarterly fees ranging from $17.50 to $19.90.

Each community will determine its own customer rates, based on the quarterly regional fee and each entity's own bond payment requirements.

The Metro-East Sanitary District will bring about 8,000 new residential and commercial users to Granite City from portions of southern Madison County and eastern St. Clair County. The Lansdowne area includes Madison, Venice, Brooklyn, National City, Washington Park, Caseyville, Fairmont City, East St. Louis and unincorporated parts of Siles and Canton.

The sanitary district's 8,000 users, when added to an expected 2,100 Glen Carbon customers will almost double usage of the Granite City plant, currently serving 10,500 of its own customers and 3,600 county connections.

The sanitary district will use its grant to construct a storage system at the existing Lansdowne plant to provide for peak flow periods. A flow metering and sampling station and a new Venice pump station are proposed for construction. Two new force mains would be added to move the waste from the Lansdowne pump station to the Venice pump station and on to the Granite City plant. The tentative schedule for the sanitary district project calls for engineering designs to begin May 7. Greathouse plans construction to start by October of next year. The system should be connected to the Granite City plant and in full operation by March 1, 1987.

Teachers neutral on Senate races

The executive board of the Illinois Federation of teachers, following lengthy deliberation at its January and February meetings, has voted to take a neutral position on the endorsement of a candidate for U.S. senator.

Candidates in the March 20 primary for senator include Democrats Roland Burris, Philip Rock, Alex Seith and Paul Simon and Republicans Tonye Coxworth and incumbent Sen. Charles Percy.

"Our executive board considered all of the candidates for the Senate seat," explained Margaret Blackshire, formerly of Madison, assistant to the president for political action. "Three of the candidates, Rock, Burris and Simon, were in general very favorable to our positions."

"All three were just too equally qualified, which made it virtually impossible for us to make a choice."

Mrs. Blackshire concluded, "We are suggesting that each of our locals look at the candidates and make their own recommendations."

All six candidates were invited to the January meeting to present their platforms to the executive board in hopes of gaining endorsement. Coxworth did not appear, and Sen. Percy was represented by State Rep. Bob Kustra.

SICBA hosts 8th annual ceramics show

The Southern Illinois Ceramic Business Association will host its eighth annual ceramic show on March 3 and 4 at the Alton Holiday Inn, Route 40 at the Bellline. Hours for the event are 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and noon until 5 p.m. on Sunday.

The show will feature mini-classes on Saturday and Sunday mornings. Class skills will include dry brushing, wildlife, paper cuts and chalks on bisque.

For more information about the show, or to register for classes, interested persons may call Jeri Cooper, 931-1563.

TAKES KEYS, THEN TRUCK

A thief stole keys from a tool shed at the A.O. Smith railroad yard this week and shortly afterward returned to the same location and stole a 1989 Chevrolet pickup truck belonging to the Norfolk & Western Railroad. The yellow truck had "N&W 5454" written on the door, reports said.

Local workshop planned on economic development

Government and private sector individuals interested in learning more about economic development programs and strategies are being invited to attend Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA)-sponsored workshops in March and April.

A March 20 to 22 workshop will be at the Collinsville Hilton Inn on Interstate 55-70 at Route 157. April 10 to 12, a similar conference will be held at Decatur's Sheldon Motor Inn at Route 51 and Pershing Road. There is a $50 registration fee due upon arrival.

"We want to provide as much information as three days will allow on the ever-changing economic development methods and programs," said DCCA Director Michael T. Woelker. "These sessions are designed to complement existing experience in this field with professional advice and ideas on fresh approaches."

The conferences are co-sponsored by the National Development Council (NDC), U.S. Small Business Administration and the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. Robert W. Davenport, senior director for the NDC, will host the workshops.

Topics to be covered include "Components of a Successful Economic Development," "Financial Statements: Balance Sheets," "The Credit Question" and "Ratio Analysis." State and federal programs to be discussed include the Small Business Administration (SBA) 503 Program, SBA 7a Program and the state's Small Business Fixed Rate Financing Fund. Registration must be in to DCCA no later than two weeks before each conference. If paying by mail, checks should be payable to the Illinois Development Board. For additional information or to register, interested persons may contact Tony Scilla, DCCA, 620 E. Adams St., Springfield, Ill. 62701, or call 1-217-785-6360.

Donors can give the 'gift of sight'

March is traditionally Eye Bank Month in Illinois and it's the time of year when the Illinois Eye Bank and 93 eye banks across the country make a concerted effort to communicate the importance and need for eye tissue for corneal transplants.

Since its founding in 1949, the Illinois Eye Bank, a project of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, has helped restore the vision of more than 6,000 men, women and children in Illinois through corneal transplants.

A record 488 transplants were performed in Illinois in 1983, an increase over the 428 in 1982 and 373 in 1981.

Unfortunately, there is never enough donor tissue. An estimated 500 people in the state of Illinois are waiting for healthy eye tissue to replace their damaged and defective corneas so they can see.

But Illinois residents like Heidi Seisser, Ada Wolf, Annie Cherry, Peter Faulhaber, Marsha Dienstag, Joel Margolis and Wayland Johnson know what it is to receive "the gift of sight."

Statistics don't tell the wonder of being able to see clearly and fully. They represent the men, women and children who know what that is.

Heidi, now 15 months old, had a transplant at 6-weeks. Ada Wolf, 96-years-old, can see today because of a transplant. Annie, Peter, Marsha and Joel were gradually losing their sight to a disease of the cornea. Wayland was blinded in a construction accident. Thoughtful donors who made their wishes known during their lifetimes gave them all the gift of sight.

Potential donors should carry the necessary identification form which is the Uniform Donor Card. The card is available on request from the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, 53 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Ill. 60604. Drivers in Illinois also can use the back of their driver's licenses to donate their eyes.

"Anyone over 18 may donate his or her eyes and no one is ever too old to donate," according to Edgar T. Britton, executive director of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness. "Prior eye examinations are not necessary and even those with poor vision have usable eyes."

Eyes that have been operated on for cataracts also are valuable to the Eye Bank," Britton said. Removal of the eyes does not mar the appearance of the body and there is never any charge to the donor or the donor's family.

Unfortunately, only blindness caused by damaged or defective corneas can be helped with corneal transplants. Eyes must be removed under sterile conditions, preferably two hours after death and no longer than six hours, which is why it is important that donors notify their families and friends of their wishes to give "the gift of sight."

Stores plan for retailing growth

The Illinois Retail Merchants Association annual meeting, "Reach for the Pluses," is being described as one of the most optimistic sessions merchants have scheduled in recent years. IRMA President Hugh E. Muncy says the April 11 and 12 meeting will bring together merchants of every merchandise line from all sections of the state at Holiday Inn Mart Plaza, Chicago.

"Retailing is an Illinois growth industry," Muncy said in calling attention to the association's one major statewide event serving all retailers. IRMA Chairman L. Darrel Ryan (Black & Co., Decatur) said the program is intended to attract buyers, fashion consultants, human relations specialists and operating personnel from every type of store. A nationally known retail motivator, Peter Glen, will spend two days to help Illinois merchants "prepare for the growth challenges this industry faces in our state today."

Edwin Crews Sr.

Edwin L. Crews Sr., 57, of Cahokia, a former Madison resident, died at 11:50 a.m. Monday, Feb. 27, 1984, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Belleville, where he was a patient since Jan. 24.

Mr. Crews was born in Madison and was self-employed in the home improvement business.

He was a veteran of service in the U. S. Army from 1948 until 1950 and was a member of St. Catherine Labourer Catholic Church in Cahokia.

Among the survivors are his wife, Mrs. Edna (Stallings) Crews; two sons, Edwin L. Crews Jr. and Louis; and Ronald J. Crews of Cahokia; a daughter, Mrs. Lloyd (Cynthia) Knapp of Cahokia; his mother, Mrs. Lula Crews of Granite City; three brothers, Darrell, Duane, and George Crews, all of Granite City; a sister, Mrs. George (Loretta) Ridge of Granite City, and four grandchildren.

Mass was said by the Rev. Bernard Goedde at 10 a.m. today, March 1, at St. Catherine Labourer Catholic Church. Burial was in the National Cemetery at Jefferson Barracks, Mo. Visitation was at Kassy Cahokia Mortuary, 1201 Camp Jackson Road.

Edward Ribbing

Edward "Jack" Ribbing, 76, of Highland, formerly of Granite City, died early Tuesday, Feb. 28, 1984, at St. Joseph Hospital in Highland, where he was taken after suffering an apparent heart attack at home.

Mr. Ribbing resided in Granite City many years prior to moving to Highland in 1969. He was born in the New Baden (Ill.) area.

Before retiring in 1969, Mr. Ribbing was employed more than 30 years as a millwright in the coke plant at Granite City Steel.

A brother, Joseph H. Ribbing of Granite City, died in March 1982 and a sister, Mrs. Theresa Kuhl, also preceded him in death.

Among the survivors are his wife, Mrs. Catherine "Cottie" Ribbing; a brother, Vincent Ribbing of Aviston, Ill.; a sister, Mrs. Annie Kuper of Aviston, and several nephews and nieces.

Visitation begins at 2 p.m. Friday at the Hemen Funeral Home in New Baden, where services will take place at 3 p.m. Saturday, March 3. Burial will be in a New Baden cemetery.

Rev. Lawrence Shipp Jr.

The Rev. Lawrence Shipp Jr., 64, of 1122 College Ave., Madison, died at 11:10 a.m. on Monday, Feb. 27, 1984, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He had been hospitalized five days.

Mr. Lawrence was born in Grenada, Miss., and had been a resident of the Metro-East area the past 38 years. A veteran of the Korean Conflict, he was employed at the Granite City Army Installation for 25 years. He also was a pastor of the New Bethel Baptist Church, East St. Louis.

He was a member of Southern Cross Masonic Lodge 112.

Among the survivors are his wife, Mrs. Clara Shipp; two sons, Tulus Shipp of Madison and Lawrence Shipp of East St. Louis; six daughters, Mrs. Dorice Gardner, East St. Louis, Mrs. Claudine Boyd, Edwardsville, Mrs. Carolyn Wilson, and Theresa Shipp, both of Venice, and Diana and Barbara Shipp, both of Madison; one brother, Tulus Shipp, St. Louis; four sisters, Mrs. Lovey Harris, Detroit, Mich., Mrs. Ida Richards, Joliet, Ill., and Miss Dorothy Shipp and Mrs. Reta Shipp, both of Madison, and 15 grandchildren.

Visitation will begin at Officer Funeral Home, 2114 Missouri Ave., East St. Louis, at noon on Saturday, March 3, and will continue until 2 p.m. Mr. Shipp will then lie in state from 3 to 9 p.m. at the New Bethel Baptist Church, 59th and Belmont streets, East St. Louis. Visitation will continue at the funeral home on Sunday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Services will be conducted at 7 p.m. Sunday, March 4, at the Edgemont Bible Fellowship Apostolic Church, 8625 State St., East St. Louis. Burial will be at 11 a.m. Monday, at National Cemetery, Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

Local ticket sales still creating millionaires

Local lottery ticket sales again have enriched residents of this metropolitan area.

Two St. Louis area persons each won $2,113,100 by matching the six winning numbers in the Illinois State Lottery's lotto game Feb. 25, it was announced Monday.

Julius Rhodes of Jennings, Mo., and Essie Mae Purnell of Florissant, Mo., will each collect their prizes in 20 annual payments of $105,659 each. He bought his ticket at Bob's Brite Store in Venice and she Purnell at the Madison County Firemen's Hall on Collinsville Road.

Miss Purnell is the sixth Florissant resident to win a lotto grand prize in the past five weeks.

In the Jan. 28 drawing, Robert and Anna Rucker each won $1,018,000 and Robert Burton won $335,700 a week later.

Freddie Welton

Freddie J. Welton, 47, of 201 W. Second St., Madison, died at 7:45 a.m. Friday, Feb. 24, 1984, at Jewish Hospital, St. Louis. He had been ill three months and in the hospital two days.

Mr. Welton resided in Madison for several years. He was born in Bourbon, Miss., and moved to St. Louis in 1942, coming to the local community some years later.

He was employed 20 years as a butcher at a Krey Packing House in St. Louis.

Mr. Welton was of the Southern Baptist faith. His wife, Mrs. Lubella Welton, died seven months ago. There were no children.

Among the survivors are his parents, Mrs. Anna Mack of St. Louis and Warren Welton of Chicago; a brother, Tommie Welton of St. Louis; his mother-in-law, Mrs. Olena Woodfolk of Madison, with whom he resided, and six nephews and nieces.

Friends may call between 4 and 9 p.m. Friday at Officer Funeral Home, 2114 Missouri Ave., East St. Louis, where services will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday, March 3, with the Rev. Alvin Johnson officiating. Burial will be in Sunset Garden of Memory in Millstadt, Ill.

1,000 students in band contest here

About 1,000 students are expected to participate in the Illinois High School Association Solo and Ensemble Contest, scheduled to be hosted Saturday at Granite City High School.

Joe Owens, GCHS band director, said today that instrumental and vocal groups from Southern Illinois high schools will be taking part.

Among the schools entered in the contest are Alton, Belleville-Althoff, Bethalto, Carbondale, Centralia, East St. Louis-Lincoln, Effingham, Jerseyville, Marion, Mascoutah, Murphysboro, O'Fallon, Salem, Wood River-East Alton, Belleville-East, Collinsville, Belleville-West, East St. Louis, Edwardsville, Mount Vernon, and students from Granite City High School.

The Granite City Warrior Band will be well represented in the contest, with band members performing solos and joining together in duets, trios, quartets, quintets and sextets for ensemble events, Owens said.

Competition will be staged throughout the day on Saturday, with the Granite City Warrior Band Parents providing food and beverages for sale in the school cafeteria on a continuous basis. Souvenir tee shirts also will be offered for sale, it was announced.

Finally, there was a change in the law with regard to the custodial parent who seeks to remove the child from the State of Illinois. In the past, the parent has been obligated to petition the Court in order to take the child out of the state. This has been changed under the new legislation, but the burden of proof in such cases has shifted.

Under prior case law, the Illinois Courts placed the burden of proof that such removal was not in the child's best interest upon the parent who was objecting to such removal. Now the burden of proof that such removal is in the best interest of the child is on the parent seeking the removal. Therefore, the mother who has custody who wants to leave the jurisdiction will now have to show that it is in the best interests of the child.

Another change in the area of family law concerns the awarding of attorney's fees where the ex-husband of wife has failed to pay child support. In the past, the custodial parent who petitioned the Court for back child support could be awarded his or her attorney's fees if the Court

Trinity Tabernacle 'old time' revival

Trinity Tabernacle Church, 2001 Sixth St., Madison, will conduct an "Old Time Revival" this Sunday, March 4, to March 18.

Revival services will take place at 7 p.m. each day. The Rev. H.A. Thomas of Springfield, Mo., known as an "Old Time" preacher with 50 years of experience, will be the featured speaker.

The revival will include several visits by Dr. C.M. O'Guinn, who served as pastor of the church for 30 years.

The revival also will give the public an opportunity to meet Trinity Tabernacle's new co-pastors, the Reverends Doyle and Sharon Ankrom, a husband and wife ministry team.

The Ankroms have served in the ministry for 20 years. Their service began in Bakersfield, Calif., where they appeared on television for many years as the hosts of "Gospel Sing Time." The Ankroms also have appeared in concerts, fairs and meetings promoting Gospel music on the west coast.

After moving to Springfield, Mo., Ankrom became founder and president of the Mid-America Gospel

Music Association. There the couple combined music ministry with an evangelistic outreach program. They served in 11 states, traveled eight years preaching and singing the Gospel.

They have served as pastors and overseers of the creation of churches in both the Springfield and Kansas City, Mo., areas. In Indiana, they served as principal and supervisor of Rockview Christian Academy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ankrom both received their Bible and theological training at Southern Bible College, Houston, Texas, where they served on the staff for three years. Ankrom acted as dean of men, and Mrs. Ankrom served as financial aid director, drama instructor and campus nurse.

The Ankroms moved to Madison last October and "are excited about the growth and plans for this great church that has been in this community for nearly 50 years."

STEAL BUICK ELECTRA

1971 Buick Electra owned by Rex Buzan, 2837 Edgewood Ave., was stolen this week from Curt's Drive In, 1623 Madison Ave.

News notes

Airline service will link Bi-State Parks Airport, Cahokia, with downtown Kansas City, it was announced at a press conference this afternoon.

Steel imports rose sharply to a new record volume in January, domestic steelmakers said jointly Wednesday in seeking presidential support for quantitative import limits.

The State Board of Education on Monday urged legislators and the governing board that dissolving local port authorities to create a metropolitan port would tamper with some of the strengths of a Tri-City Regional port, including "adequate enabling legislation and the support of state legislators."

Sheriff deputies plan to continue a crackdown on gambling in unincorporated area taverns. They allege seizing a video pool game, a pull-tab board and other devices at Elsie's Tavern, E. Chain of Rocks Road near Route 157.

The annual benefit "chili day" of Granite City Rotarians is set for 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and 5 to 7 p.m. Tuesday, March 6, at Niedringhaus Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue.

National Steel will build a $70 million facility at its Great Lakes plant near Detroit to make rust-resistant steel for autos. The electrolytic galvanizing line also will use body panels.

Congressmen this week are trying to reinstate a federal level of state or federal financial assistance would be almost impossible, unless you could find a major source who is willing to help amortize the capital cost of your installation over a long period of time," he predicted.

ADDITIONALLY, a metropolitan authority would be limited by a lack of good sites for port development and a need for money to modernize facilities and focus on handling of bulk commodities and on major expansions.

Rant contended that there would be a conflict in a regional authority between two distinct primary functions of the ports above and below Lock 27 at Granite City. Above the locks, "the river is a series of pools separated by locks and dams. Below Lock 27, it is an open river all the way to the Gulf."

That means that north of the locks, most tows are limited to 10 barges or less, since they must go through the locks. At St. Louis, southbound tows can be combined into large river tows of 25 to 40 barges and sent on to New Orleans. Northbound tows must be broken up at St. Louis into land transportation systems, the ports' capabilities, area fleetings operations and what role St. Louis metropolitan ports can play in supplying the remainder of the inland water system and Gulf ports, including the export market.

He stressed the importance of having good rail and highway access to ports and modern means of transferring products between the various transportation modes. "The finest port facility on the river will fail if it does not have good rail and highway access and if the shippers and terminals cannot negotiate competitive rail or truck rates," he said.

He said that with deregulation under the Staggers Act and other re-legislation, "Land transportation is a key to port development and, more often than not, this is a situation we can't live without."

RANT CONTENDED that dissolving local port authorities to create a metropolitan port would tamper with some of the strengths of a Tri-City Regional port, including "adequate enabling legislation and the support of state legislators."

Major port development projects such as the proposed new harbor in the Chain of Rocks Canal north of the current port and the "L" shaped dike at the St. Louis Municipal Dock.

Deep water port improvements.

A national maritime and export program.

Competitive rail rates and other deregulation issues.

And resolution of the fleetings problems in the St. Louis harbor.

"IN VIEWING" the importance of ocean shipping and freight rates upon our ability to compete in foreign markets, it is important that we have a consistent maritime policy that balances the need for a healthy merchant marine with our need for ocean freight rates that keep our products competitive. We must work together with our congressmen to achieve this goal," he stressed.

Bi-State must work to unify the congressional delegations from Missouri and Illinois to work to develop a river system "as a means of keeping American farmers and industry competitive. These actions, however, must be carried out effectively without the creation of a Metro Port Authority. Bi-State can continue to provide the forum and leadership for the creation of the public state legislators and local government concerning the needs of river transportation," Rant said.

"IN SUMMARY" A Metropolitan Port Authority does not appear to be practical or desirable at this time. Each of the seven port districts on both sides of the river operates under legislative authority granted by their respective states and it is questionable that the states would grant the same level of authority to a new agency. A metro-wide port authority is no better equipped to deal with the major issues facing us than our existing arrangements.

"Another layer of administration is not what we need at this time. Let's use what we now have and put the same level of effort into it as we would into creating a new organization. We have some of the best and most knowledgeable people in the river business right here in both Illinois and Missouri. Let's make better use of the assets we now have," Rant concluded.

His talk was part of a day-long symposium which included representatives of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, port authorities, area governmental bodies, Bi-State Development, the Seafarers International Union, Col. Leonard L. Griggs, director of Lambert-St. Louis International Airport and banking and economic experts.

Speaking on behalf of creation of the metropolitan port was Clarence C. Barksdale, board chairman of Centere Bancorporation, who said he believes a central authority could be more effective than the seven port districts which now try to compete for business.

He said the current fragmented system has failed to exploit the potential for the area's ports and that to fully develop the facilities could create "thousands and thousands of jobs."

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

There have been several legislative changes in the area of family law in the last few years. The three areas of legislation noted in today's article all went into effect January 1, 1983.

One major change was in the area of visitation by grandparents. Until recently, the Illinois Supreme Court had held that the law in this state did not authorize awarding grand parents partial custody and visitation privileges. The rationale behind this was that the right to determine who gets visitation vested primarily with the parent; who was charged with the daily responsibility of rearing the children. However, under the Bill signed by Governor Thompson last year, grandparents shall now be allowed visitation rights in a dissolution of marriage if they petition the Court for visitation and if the Court finds that it is in the child's best interests.

Another change in the area of family law concerns the awarding of attorney's fees where the ex-husband of wife has failed to pay child support. In the past, the custodial parent who petitioned the Court for back child support could be awarded his or her attorney's fees if the Court felt this was appropriate. However, under the new provision the Court no longer has discretion if the failure to pay child support was without cause of justification. In this case, the Court must award attorney's fees to the parent who is seeking back child support.

Finally, there was a change in the law with regard to the custodial parent who seeks to remove the child from the State of Illinois. In the past, the parent has been obligated to petition the Court in order to take the child out of the state. This has been changed under the new legislation, but the burden of proof in such cases has shifted.

Under prior case law, the Illinois Courts placed the burden of proof that such removal was not in the child's best interest upon the parent who was objecting to such removal. Now the burden of proof that such removal is in the best interest of the child is on the parent seeking the removal. Therefore, the mother who has custody who wants to leave the jurisdiction will now have to show that it is in the best interests of the child.

Spelling bee Saturday at Coolidge

Granite City School District Nine's 8th annual Spelling Bee will take place at 9 a.m. Saturday, March 3, at Coolidge Junior High School. The public is invited to attend.

Agnes P. Fryntko, Parkview principal and spelling bee chairman, said preliminary contests at the various grade schools have now been completed in preparation of Saturday's districtwide event.

Mrs. Fryntko explained that each elementary school selected a winner and a runner-up (alternate) in each of three levels of participation—primary level (second and third grades), lower intermediate (fourth and fifth grades) and upper intermediate level (grade 6). As the building winners were chosen, the successful pupils were awarded ribbons by their respective principals, she reported.

Winners and alternates in the preliminary rounds, all of whom are expected to compete Saturday, with their school and level of competition—primary, lower intermediate and upper intermediate—listed in sequence, are:

Frohardt winners—Suchon Tulyasathien, Bobby Gaddy, Melinda McClery; alternates—David

Fielding, Susan Stegall, Caryn Had-

Maryville winners—Jamie Egbert, Kim Sealy, Chris Richeson; alternates—Beth Rapoff, Kristi Reed, Carl Reed.

Mitchell winners—Belinda Kichee, Cynthia Hahn, Jill Robinson; alternates—James Maher, Mark Collins, Dennis Jolly.

Niedringhaus winners—Melinda Daniels, Ann Kirkpatrick, Kerin Dippel; alternates—Jennifer Turck,

Plan hearings next week on vocational education

The Illinois State Board of Education will conduct two public hearings on the development of the 1985 State Plan and the 1983 Annual Accountability Report for Vocational Education in Illinois on March 6 in Mt. Vernon and March 8 in Elmhurst.

The hearings will allow individuals an opportunity to voice their views on the adoption of goals; development of programs; responsibility for programs among the various levels of education and institutions; and the allocation of federal, state and local resources to meet the goals of vocational education.

Copies of the five-year state plan have been distributed to school administrators, regional superintendents of schools and other interested persons. Vocational education's annual program plan is based on the five-year plan.

Persons offering oral testimony at the hearings are to provide written copies of their presentations for review by the state Board of Education.

On Tuesday, the hearing will be held from 10 to 11:30 a.m. at the Field Room, Holiday Inn, 1-57 at State Route 15, Mt. Vernon.

Homemakers kick off membership drive

"If It's Going To Be - It's Up To Me" is the theme for the 1984 Homemakers Extension Association membership drive. The drive was kicked off at a luncheon in Edwardsville last week.

Membership chairman from 20 county units, district vice-chairmen and county HEA board members attended the program, which set the goal to boost Extension membership from the present 985 to 1,050.

The association offers programs in home economics and related topics to interested persons, rural and urban, regardless of race, color, sex, national origin or religion, as a service of the University of Illinois.

Martha McIlvoy of Granite City, county membership chairman, formally opened the membership drive for those attending and presided at the noon luncheon.

Arla Ault of Creative Women Unit of Granite City spoke to the group on how to increase and maintain membership. She stressed ways to make a membership drive succeed by setting goals and then working to make it happen.

Mildred Dresch of Alhambra, state membership chairman, brought greetings from IHEF. Also attending was Janet Burnett, associate extension adviser.

Mrs. McIlvoy explained that units are competing for honors in obtaining the most new members for the calendar year. Winning unit membership chairmen will receive an all-expense paid trip to the Illinois Homemakers Extension Federation annual meeting at the University of Illinois campus in Urbana-Champaign. Units with 10 or more new members will be judged winners.

Also speaking during the luncheon program was Catherine Mauck, extension adviser.

Non-point and chlorine pollution sources in state

Illinois water quality researchers continue to discover that the sources of pollution in Illinois streams are not always the traditionally recognized origins of pollutants currently under regulation.

Two research reports just released by the Illinois Department of Energy and Natural Resources (ENR) indicate that sewage treatment discharges and industrial discharges into Illinois streams are not solely responsible for water pollution, but that the pollution of streams is a more complex phenomena also involving land use and agricultural practices.

The two reports summarize findings from studies of two water basins—several Champaign area streams and the Court Creek watershed in Knox County.

Investigators of the Champaign streams studied fish communities in the streams to better understand the environmental impacts of ammonia concentrations found in sewage discharge and the chlorine added to sewage effluents for disinfection purposes.

In the Champaign area study, they found that elimination of residual chlorine from good quality secondary sewage treatment discharges would result in quantitative and qualitative restoration of fish communities in the streams.

Regulations in recent years have focused on ammonia concentrations, but this study suggests that chlorine added to sewage is causing much of the environmental impact mistakenly attributed to ammonia.

The Court Creek watershed study, part of a three-year inventory and analysis of the source of pollutants in streams and lakes in the area, focused on "non-point" sources of pollution.

Historically, stream and lake pollution abatement programs have concentrated on waste discharges from municipal sewage treatment plants and industries, categorized as "point" sources of pollution.

Despite the fact that more waste water treatment plants are now operating at point sources of pollution, pollutants continue to be found in excess of water quality standards.

The three-year study, conducted by the State Water Survey Division of the Department of Energy and Natural Resources, looked at three types of general land use patterns—mining, urban development and agriculture.

Three preliminary observations from the first year of study indicate that sulfate concentrations are highest from monitoring sites near strip mining locations, "that concentrations of chloride, while not excessive, are related to urban developments; and that dissolved phosphorus levels are highest in drainage from agricultural areas."

A final report with more rigorous analysis and a proposed land use and water quality management plan is now being drafted in cooperation with local residents to minimize the impacts of the non-point pollution sources.

Checkoffs won't slow tax refunds

State income tax refunds for the majority of persons who check off part of their refund for charitable funds will be processed within the normal eight to 10 weeks, according to Illinois Revenue Director J. Thomas Johnson.

Johnson said that temporary adjustments to the present computer system will now allow most tax returns to be processed within the usual time frame. Earlier reports had indicated that delays would occur.

Those returns already filed will be first in line for refunds when the systems are ready, Johnson added.

The check-offs are new to the tax return this year, Johnson noted. Taxpayers now can donate part of their refund to one or more of the three designated funds—the Illinois Veterans Home fund, the Illinois Non-Game Wildlife Conservation Fund, and the Child Abuse Prevention Fund. Up to $10 per taxpayer can be designated to each fund, for a maximum donation of $30 from a single person or $60 from a married couple filing a joint return.

The new check-offs, together with other major changes in the Illinois income tax act this year, necessitated the development of a new computer program, Johnson explained. Other major changes included a property tax deduction (which allows residents to deduct property taxes they paid on their personal residence) and two business-related changes dealing with expense deductions and Enterprise Zone deductions and credits. A change in federal tax law requiring the state to provide taxpayers with an annual statement of their refunds, credits and offsets over $10, also contributed to the need for a new computer system.

TRANSPORTING CHARGE
After halting a vehicle in the 2100 block of Missouri Avenue during the weekend and allegedly finding an open black box containing a bottle of bourbon which was dripping onto the car's floorboard, officers charged the driver, Michael A. Baker, 19, of 2410 Bryan Ave., with illegal transportation of alcohol. He signed the citation and was released at the scene to appear in court March 30.

GC girl, 14, is molested by 3

A Granite City girl, 14, was molested by three persons at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in an apartment at Kirkpatrick Homes.

She was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for several large bruises about the upper part of her body.

Two young men, aged 16 and 17, and the 16-year-old father are blamed for the molestation, which is being investigated by police. An angry relative of the child flourished a knife at one of the accused and at a relative of one of the trio at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, authorities were told.

Manufacturing zoning pleas on appeals agenda Monday

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will consider five zoning requests, including two for manufacturing zoning, during on-site public hearings in Quad-City area townships Monday, March 5.

The first hearing will be at 9 a.m. Monday at Route 203 and East Chain of Rocks Road (Old By-Pass Road 66) in Mitchell, where Astronomical, Inc., a subsidiary of Astronomical, Inc., is requesting rezoning of 7.2 acres of land from its current B-4 (wholesale business district) zoning to an M-2 (general manufacturing) district to manufacture roof trusses and pre-cut buildings in conjunction with the Mark Corso, warehouse manager, is requesting the change on behalf of the company.

The second hearing will be at 9:30 a.m. Monday at 885a Thorgate Drive, adjacent to Sun-n-Fun on West Chain of Rocks Road, where Thomas D. Mikes is requesting a special use permit to place a double-wide mobile home for at least five years, until he builds a permanent structure.

At 9:30 a.m., the board will meet on Chouteau Island where Roger and Gary Kleffer are requesting a special use permit to continue the placement of a mobile home. The current permit has expired. The property is in a flood-hazard area of Chouteau Township and can be reached by driving west on Chain of Rocks Road over the canal to the first road to the right, then following it under Interstate 270 to the first tract of land on the right.

The fourth hearing will begin at 10:40 a.m. Monday on Allen Street in Eagle Park Acres, Venice Township, where James Savage is requesting a special use permit to continue the placement of a mobile home for as long as possible. The property is in Venice Township.

The last hearing locally will be at 11:10 a.m. Monday on Route 162 just east of State Aid Route 35 (Mockingbird Lane), where rezoning of a 27-acre tract of land from agricultural to an M-2 (general manufacturing) district is sought by Attorney Maurice Dailey, acting on behalf of the trustees of the will of the late B.F. Reese.

After the on-site hearings, the zoning board will adjourn to the Building and Zoning Department in the county courthouse at Edwardsville to render its recommendations. The Madison County Board will act on the recommendations at its March meeting.

Nutrition emphasis in state this month

In conjunction with national observance, Gov. James R. Thompson has proclaimed March as Nutrition Month in Illinois.

The Illinois State Council on Nutrition is reminding citizens that sound eating habits and nutrition should be practiced throughout the year for good physical and emotional health.

"The way we eat influences the way our children eat," says Virginia Hill, executive director of the Council. She suggests:

"Bake and broil, rather than fry. Experiment with other seasonings in order to limit sodium intake. Include a variety of foods in your diet. Start reading food labels. Create fun and nutritious snacks. Fit exercise into your schedule, and don't skip meals."

Spring flood might create health hazard

Fred H. Hulg, acting director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, said this week that "almost every year, somewhere in Illinois, spring doesings bring only wild flowers and plowed fields. It also brings flood waters, and they, in turn, bring health hazards."

Spring flooding has been predicted for the Midwest this year.

"The most serious hazards result from the contamination of water supplies and sewage backup," Hulg said in reviewing floods.

"The most common waterborne diseases attack the gastrointestinal tract; those that can cause vomiting, stomach cramps and diarrhea."

"There are a few others, such as hepatitis, viral infections and tetanus, which can occur as a result of unsanitary conditions if you should become careless or injured while cleaning up after a flood."

"However, if you are injured, you should contact a doctor. A doctor might recommend a tetanus shot or booster, just as he might at some other times when you suffer a wound."

"In order to help prevent waterborne disease, wear rubber gloves and high rubber boots while you are cleaning up after a flood. And if you can, become contaminated by flood waters, wash them with hot, soapy water as soon as possible."

"In the meantime, don't touch your face or that another, don't eat, handle food, or smoke."

"Fortunately, epidemics of waterborne diseases are not a problem in the United States, even in flooded areas, so we no longer send in teams to immunize people against diseases such as typhoid and hepatitis."

"Health professionals have found that mass immunization programs can create more problems than they cure. For one thing, they divert the manpower that could be helping to rescue stranded flood victims or to clean up the flooded area."

"For another, adverse vaccine reactions are common. And the fever, headache, swelling and pain at the injection site can cause additional stress on flood victims. If you were to experience an adverse reaction, you might be too incapacitated to help with the cleanup chores."

"There is another reason why mass immunization programs are no longer carried out. You might feel safer if you were immunized, but this could cause you to neglect the basic rules of hygiene and sanitation. These rules are far more important than immunizations in preventing infectious diseases that flood waters may spread."

"Anyway, for most diseases, there are no vaccines. And in those waterborne diseases where there is a vaccine, it takes time for it to become effective and it might not offer protection once you've been exposed to a disease."

Crashes on ice hurt 5 Tuesday

Ice and snow on Granite City streets contributed to three collisions that injured five persons on Tuesday.

The most extensive injuries were received by Isabelle S. Burnett, 58, of 2535 Benton St., who was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center from Nameoki and Fehling roads at 5:30 p.m.

She was a passenger in the car of Ralph R. Burnett, 58, of 2535 Benton, traveling east from Fehling to make a left turn onto Nameoki. He sustained minor injuries.

Lawrence A. Tegel, 2666 Washington Ave., said he tried to halt his southbound auto for a stoplight but the car skidded on ice, the front end hitting the left side of the Burnett vehicle.

Another two-injury crash occurred 20 minutes later on Nameoki Road at Jill Avenue when the southbound Bi-State bus of Jerome Howard, East St. Louis, slid on ice.

The front of the bus struck the rear of the auto of Steven W. Siebert, 24, of 2147 Delmar Ave. Slight injuries were suffered by him and his passenger, Scott D. Rushing, 22, also of 2147 Delmar.

At 11 a.m. Tuesday, a northbound police car driven by David Rosenberg slid on ice, its left front hitting the right rear of the parked auto of Adele Weber, 2221a Iowa St., in front of 2225 Iowa. The street is one-way.

Rosenberg was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for minor injuries. The front of the Weber vehicle was knocked against the rear of another parked car, owned by Robert French, 9 Bradley Ave.

A bus slid into a ditch at 7 a.m. Tuesday on the eastern side of the West Pontoon Road railroad crossing but no injuries were reported.

In Dupo Class A Basketball Regional

Venice victorious over Valmeyer; meets ESTL

Rematch With Madison Likely Friday

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

DUPO — Valmeyer High School basketball coach Tom Feeley was lost for words Wednesday night after his team dropped its first-round game to Venice in the Class A Dupo Regional Basketball Tournament.

"We lost," Feeley finally said from the confines of the Dupo Regional hospitality room. "All I can tell the kids is to go out there and get a game like this one. You can't get uptight about losing to a team like Venice."

"We were unsettled and cold while they got hot. It's just that simple."

That may have been the case, but it didn't start that way.

THE PIRATES, 4-17 going into the game, gained possession early and marched down the court for the game's first score. The Red Devils on the other hand, were uncharacteristically sluggish in the opening minutes, going to the hoop five times before coming up with their first layup.

Venice's 5-foot 8-inch senior guard Eddie Salmond evened the score at two apiece with 5:28 remaining in the first quarter. Salmond's shot, a jumper from the top of the key, got the Red Devils rolling. Salmond went on to pace the Red Devils with a game-high 29 points.

"IT TOOK us a while to get on track," said Venice High Coach Clinton Harris. "We've got to run up and down the court a few times to get us going."

"Going" is just what the Devils did in after Salmond broke the ice. Valmeyer rebounded the ball and marched down for another two points to take a brief lead after Salmond's bucket, but that was the last the Pirates were heard of for more than four minutes.

Trailing 4-2, Venice came back as Salmond sank two free throws to tie the game at four. The Red Devils went ahead to stay with 4:22 remaining in the first quarter when 6-foot 2-inch junior Darren Wise scored from underneath.

Salmond made it 8-4 with 4:06 remaining in the first quarter when he took a pass inside, dribbled around two Pirate defenders for his sixth point of the game.

Trying the same kind of play moments later, Salmond was fouled by Valmeyer's Carl Townzen.

senior forward and second highest scorer for the Devils this year, twisted an ankle in the first quarter and played just three minutes of the second quarter before exiting the game for good.

WITHOUT White, most of the Red Devil offense — make that more than usual — was channelled through Salmond.

The condition of White's ankle, Everage said, is not serious and he Valmeyer managed four. The main reason for the Pirates' meager output in the second quarter was the Red Devils' varying defense.

THE DEVILS are not a big team so much of its defensive power comes from its speed and its ability to disguise its defense. Wednesday night, for example, the Devils appeared to use three defenses — a man-to-man, a zone and then a mixture of both. The man-to-man was most effective against the Pirates.

With the aid of its varying defenses, the Devils breezed to a 37-10 halftime lead. In the third quarter, Venice played backed off its defense and concentrated on offense. The result was a 34-point quarter — 21 for Venice and 13 for Valmeyer.

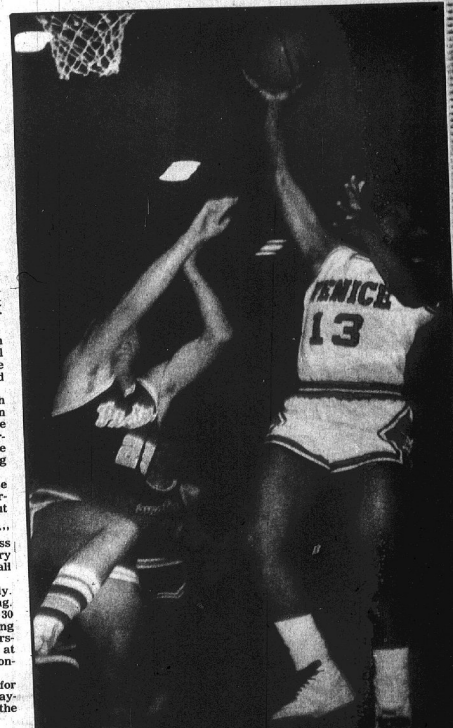

LEADING 58-23 going into the fourth quarter, Harris got every Red Devil into the ball game. Even with the reserves, the Red Devils improved upon its 32-point third-quarter lead. Craig Hamilton, a 5-foot 8-inch senior, epitomized the Red Devils in the final quarter. Coming off the bench, Hamilton displayed the versatility and depth of the Venice squad. Hamilton sank a looping jumper from the right corner.

"The difference in tonight's game is tradition," Feeley said afterwards. "We hear so much about Madison."

Madison, next to each other," Feeley said of the relative closeness of Venice and Madison. "Just try and tell me there's not a basketball tradition in that area."

A Venice-Madison finale is likely. Both teams play this evening. Madison will take on Lovejoy at 6:30 p.m., followed by Venice's pairing with Assumption at 8 p.m. Thursday's winners will meet Friday at 7:30 p.m. for the regional championship.

Harris says his team is ready for another rematch with Madison, saying "this time we're going for the gold."

MOVING MCGHEE, Larry McGhee, Venice's 5-foot 7-inch senior guard scores on this fourth quarter layup against Valmeyer's Bret Langsdorf. Aided by McGhee's effort, the Red Devils easily defeated the Pirates and earned a berth to meet Assumption tonight in semifinal action of the Dupo Class A Basketball Regional.

ST. LOUIS COUNTY — Two members of Granite City's Mexican Honorary Commission boxing team will compete in the 62nd Annual St. Louis Regional Golden Gloves Tournament this weekend at the North County recreation complex.

MHC's two participants, Danny Mendoza and Steve Gancheff, will begin competition Friday and Saturday respectively. Mendoza, a division and a past Golden Gloves champion, will meet Brad Williams of Pop Myles' Boxing Club of East St. Louis in bout 15. Mendoza's overall record is 41-7.

Gancheff, who is riding a four-bout winning streak, will compete in the 119-pound novice division. Squaring off against Orlando Hughes of the North (St. Louis) Boxing Club in bout seven Saturday, Gancheff is 15-0 overall.

Friday's and Saturday's preliminary bouts will be held at 7 p.m.

In Dupo Cage Regional Wildcats tame Tigers in first-round game

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

DUPO — The Dupo Tigers took more than three quarters to accomplish what the Lovejoy Wildcats did in the first quarter Tuesday at the Dupo Class A Basketball Regional.

With 7:25 remaining in the fourth quarter, Dupo's Scott Warren hit a jumpshot near the free-throw line to give the Tigers 28 points on the scoreboard.

The Wildcats scored 28 points in the first quarter alone. To say Lovejoy dominated the game is an understatement, with a final score of 77-40.

LOVEJOY coach Ted Daniels watched his players enjoy the easy victory. The coach enjoyed it, too.

"Basketball is not a good game to play if you're not having fun," said Daniels. "When everyone keeps an eye out for the open man instead of popping it up right away, it's easier to score. That makes for a whole lot of fun."

Daniels said Lovejoy will be playing the same kind of game tonight against the powerful Madison Trojans. However, he promises one thing will be different.

"We know it won't be the same score-wise," said Daniels with a snicker, knowing the Trojans have lost only two games the whole season. "But we still want to have fun."

THE STYLES of Daniels and Madison coach Larry Graham may come out in tonight's ball game. Graham stresses quality in his players, always pointing out mistakes and the need for improvement. His motto likely is, "A team can never get too good."

Daniels, meanwhile, seems to stress the importance of having fun. His motto likely is, "Stay loose, have fun and let the chips fall where they may."

But Daniels did say he makes the same type of demands that Graham does.

"Some people say that coaches are pessimistic, that they never point out the good points of the team," said Daniels. "But the things the boys do right, they don't need to improve on. Instead, you've got to constantly tell them their mistakes so they can do better."

DUPO COACH Robert Mason couldn't tell enough about the mistakes of his team, especially on defense.

"We played all three types of defenses," said Mason, gearing up for his comedy routine. "First there was the matador defense, where we waved them on by. Then there was the sieve defense, where we had plenty of holes for their players to go through. Finally, there was the funnel defense, where we took them from the outside and guided them right down the middle."

Despite the jovial comments, Dupo's coach was anything but happy. The loss ended the season for his Tigers, who finished at 5-17.

BEAUMONT, the win improved the Wildcats' record to 9-14 and puts them up against Madison tonight.

"This place is going to be full of electricity, that's for sure," predicted Daniels. "Their fans will be jammed on one side and ours will be on the other. The place will be hoppin'."

And the outcome?

'Very Close' Announcement of SIUE basketball coach still a week or longer away

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — It appears it may be as long as a week or more before a new head basketball coach of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be named, according to Dr. James Buck, director of development and public affairs at SIUE.

"Obviously, the snow has delayed the process somewhat. Also, there are certain requirements that must be satisfied. But I can tell you that we're very close to having a new coach at SIUE," Buck said Wednesday afternoon.

BECAUSE of the inclement weather, the university cancelled classes Monday and Tuesday. The requirements for the position, however, are to be meeting affirmative action requirements, a snag which believed has caused the latest delay.

Despite conflicting reports which had the university naming a new coach much sooner, Buck said the selection is "progressing as scheduled."

"We're more concerned with meeting all the requirements of naming a new coach rather than meeting any deadlines," Buck said.

As to the finalists for the position, Buck was tight lipped. In fact, he would not even go on record as to who the finalists are.

Reportedly, there are three finalists — Madison High School

"All I know is that our players would rather beat Madison than eat," said Daniels with a grin. "It's going to be a war."

Carenza brings winning attitude to T-C YMCA

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

There are any number of tough acts to follow in show business and in athletic contests. Probably the most difficult, not to mention more painful, is for a younger brother to meet the challenge of the starting of an older brother in a sports activity.

For example take the case of a recent addition to the Granite City athletic life, the slender and tall Chris Carenza, who has recently taken over the job of recreation and sports director of the local YMCA program.

Chris' older brother, Big John Carenza, helped inaugurate soccer as a winning sport at the new Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville campus back when Coach Bob Gueker initiated the athletic endeavor in the late 1960's.

In four years as star of the youthful SIUE Cougar Kickers, big John Carenza set and still holds the school's scoring record of 100 points on 71 goals and 29 assists over four seasons.

John's sibling and younger brother, Chris, over a comparable four-year period (two as teammates), racked up a highly respectable 60 points on 46 goals and 14 assists to now hold the third-place in SIUE scoring. In second place is Don Ebert, the ace of the St. Louis Steamers. In the fourth slot is the ball-handling ace, John Stremiau, with 58 points. Stremiau is now a key player on the roster of the Kansas City Comets. Another in the SIUE fifth place is soccer ace, both indoors and outdoors and still active in both, is Tim Twillman, with 49 points.

The Carenza brothers, while both were tall and towering as compared to the usual soccer players, were as unlike as night and day. Big John was a pragmatic and almost stoic individual who showed very little emotion on the soccer field. Chris, on the other hand, was flamboyant, mercurial and very exciting. Where John was content to use brute (if not skill) in force in his scoring efforts, Chris preferred skill and finesse.

In the four years of stardom for big John at SIUE his play failed to produce a national championship. On the other hand, Chris was nothing less than sensational in giving the Cougars their first national crown by scoring the only goal for SIUE of the championship contest in 1972 against Oneonta State University of New York in the title game of the first NCAA division II tournament, which was held at SIUE.

That '72 game was played at Cougar Field in the first week of December on a windy, bitterly cold and icy field before a jam-packed crowd of 5,000-plus fans.

This reporter can still see Chris take over as time was running out in the brutally fought defensive game and scoring the game-winner. The New Yorkers let their guard down late in the game as they brought the ball down field after a SIUE shot-on-goal which narrowly missed. The Oneonta player with the ball made the mistake of being too casual and, from nowhere, Chris moved down and stole the ball and swooped in from the right to score the winning goal.

Chris enjoyed many other high points in his college career, but none more brilliant — or asperating and maddening — than his pair of goals on the sun-drenched astro turf of Busch Stadium in a Bronze Boot clash with the Cougars' arch-rivals, the St. Louis University Bills. It was a Sunday afternoon and a crowd of nearly 15,000 highly partisan fans were on hand.

The game ended in a 1-1 draw, but what made the game's outcome so frustrating to Chris and his Cougar teammates — and fans — was that the two beautiful goals that he scored were both disallowed. The pair of Carenza goals which were "whistled back" would have given the Cougars their first victory ever over the high-and-mighty St. Louis U. Bills in soccer.

What was so aggravating about those two goals was this: the official right on top of the play, signalled both "good," while the ref at mid-field, over to yards away, nullified both goals "off-side" and bad.

Chris Carenza comes to Granite City after a couple of seasons on a British professional squad in London and the three seasons as coach of the Avila College avalanche in Kansas City. His stay at Avila produced a great number of outstanding results: No. 1, of course, was the school's first victory ever over their cross-town rival, the Rockhurst College Hawks and the one and only victory over the eight-time national NAIA Quincy College eleven and on the Hawks' field, a considerable feat in itself.

Following his third season at Avila, he was lured away by the Kansas City Comets by former coach and all-time U.S. soccer great, Pat McBride, and his assistant and an ex-teammate of Chris, Rick Benben. He didn't care too much for the job in the front office so he resigned and came home.

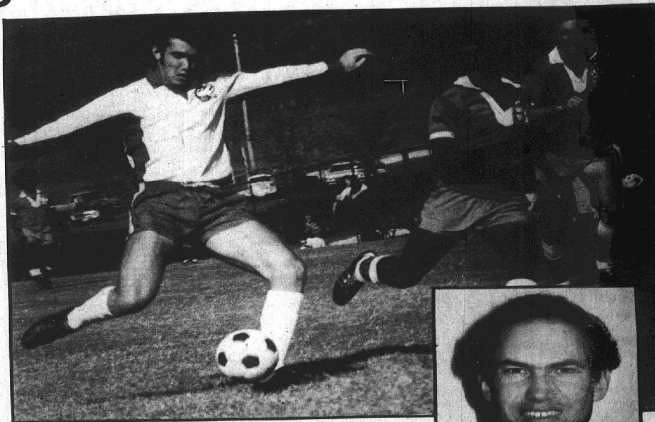

With a BA from SIUE in mass communications (1975) and a Masters from the same school in 1983) in Speech Communication, plus his actual experience in soccer and baseball, Carenza hopes that he'll be able to make a definite contribution to the overall program at the Granite City "Y."

Says Carenza: "The 'Y' is a combination of sports, fitness and overall recreation. I hope to inform the public that we have a very high quality of recreation and fitness to offer at a basically low cost."

Carenza feels that he can work with Dave Ferrite, the Y's executive director and Patty Swearingin, the program's aquatic director.

He adds: "We hope to induce the local plants to take part in a program of health exercises for their employees, to install a Nautilus Fitness Center in the future and immediately, to kickoff the program with a Super Star Competition for men and women in local plants and other businesses to be held Sunday March 25."

He further volunteered that, in addition to basketball, the 'Y' now has three racketball courts.

KICKING CARENZA. Chris Carenza, the new program director at the Tri-City YMCA, has had quite a soccer career which spanned both the amateur and professional ranks. Above, Carenza as a stand-out kicker for the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Cougars, prepares to boot the ball in a game against the University of Alabama Huntsville in the mid-1970's. The inset photograph is Carenza today as he serves the Tri-City YMCA.

QCSA registration

The Quad-Cities Soccer Association is holding open registration for those children interested in playing organized soccer in the Granite City area this spring and fall. Registration will be held at the Harold Brown Recreational Center located on Pontoon Rd. and Franklin Blvd. on Friday, March 2, from 6 to 9 p.m. and Saturday, March 3, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Registration is for girls, ages 4 to 7 and boys, ages 4 to 13. The fee is $20 for the first child, $10 for the second child and free for the third child in any one family.

All first year Fee Wee teams will be playing in an instructional program.

Parents and players will have an opportunity to learn basic skills while playing.

Those who can't attend registration can send a copy of birth certificate and fee to: Quad-Cities Soccer Association, P.O. Box 624, Granite City, IL 62040, or call the Soccer Hotline at 877-1282. Anyone who wishes to coach or can qualify for a referee may also call or write.

Nelson's accepting teams

Lord Nelson's Sports Complex is still accepting teams for the slow-pitch softball summer league. It's accepting men's, ladies' or co-ed' teams.

Play will start April 30 with play-offs beginning Aug. 20. ASA rules will be used.

A meeting will be scheduled later at which time schedules will be given out.

Leagues are being formed for any night of the week. For information, persons should call 931-6338.

MAC slates baseball sign up

The Mitchell Athletic Club will register boys and girls this Monday and Tuesday, March 5 and 6, wishing to play in its summer baseball league.

According to MAC spokesman Myron Merz, all youths in the Quad-Cities area ages six to 15 may register from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Mitchell Elementary School. Fee is $15 and an additional $10 for each family member after the first.

Persons wishing further information may call Merz at 931-1218.

Final ice skating Sunday

The Granite City Park District has announced that its final ice skating session for this season will be Sunday, March 4. A regular session will be held from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. and an adults sessions from 8:30 p.m. to 11 p.m.

At the close of the sessions, there will not be any public skating sessions for the current season.

The Park District also reminds anyone interested in the Park's Indoor Soccer Program that they should contact the Wilson Park Office at 877-3859. League play is scheduled to begin March 19.

Softball rules meeting is set

The softball rules interpretation meeting which was scheduled for Tuesday has been rescheduled for this evening, Thursday, March 1, at Edwardsville High School, 145 West Ave. The Illinois High School Association recommends that all area softball coaches attend the meeting.

Stated for 7:30 p.m. at that school's library, the meeting will be taught by Kay Hyten, softball enthusiast and Edwardsville High School coach.

Registration begins at 7 p.m. and admission is free.

Inter-City baseball sets March meeting

There has been a meeting slated for Sunday, March 4, at 1 p.m. at the Maryville Firehouse for those teams wishing to participate in the Illinois Inter-City Baseball League this summer.

According to Earl Scharden, league president, the league will be bigger and better in 1984. In addition to the three teams which ended the league last year, Scharden says five more teams have shown interest in competing in this summer's league.

Persons seeking further information about the summer leagues should call Scharden at 877-1415 or attend the March 4 meeting.

Illinois Wrestling State competition: There's nothing like it

TERMED A learning experience for Granite City High School's two participants, the 47th Annual Illinois State Wrestling Tournament held last weekend in Champaign will long be remembered by all those who participated. Some of the action of the annual Illinois high school wrestling extravaganza is included in this photo essay. Beginning right and going clockwise... Jeff Cotter, exits the mats following his first-round bout with Galesburg's John Chapman. BEST IN AA, team members of Palos Hills (Staga) celebrate their team victory over Carol Stream (Glenbard North) in the dual meet championship pairing. The Chargers' 30-20 victory over the Panthers was the first of the dual team meet format in state competition. MEDALISTS, Bill Schmitt, right, Granite City High School wrestling coach and member of the IHSA Wrestling Advisory Committee, waits for the formal announcement of Pete Rhode as the Class AA 105-pound champion before awarding the Freeport High School sophomore his gold medal. Schmitt has been presenting athletes their medals at the state finale for 26 years. Southern Illinois finishers pictured are Althoff's Joe Williams, second, and Cahokia's Bryan Patterson who finished sixth overall. The photograph was taken before IHSA officials changed the weight indicator to 105 pounds. ALTHOFF'S Williams wind up on the bottom side of this roll by Rhode in the 105-pound state championship match. TOM SPARKS, Granite City High School's 138-pounder had a difficult time with Waukegan West's Lee Epton in their preliminary-round bout. Epton, a senior, went on to defeat the Warrior sophomore 14-2.

Anthropologist begins duties at site of mounds

By JIM WOODCOCK

Anthropologist Dr. Margaret Brown of the Illinois Department of Conservation has been named as the new site superintendent at Cahokia Mounds State Park.

She replaces Jim Anderson, who resigned Dec. 31. She is not a stranger to the Cahokia Mounds site; she is a nine-year employee of the DOC and the former historian for Cahokia Mounds' state district.

Born in Indiana and raised in Massachusetts, Dr. Brown earned a Ph.D. degree in anthropology from Michigan State University. She completed her undergraduate work at the University of Minnesota.

Her educational background includes a heavy emphasis in archeology, and her work background includes a stint as a DOC staff archeologist.

She was one of three candidates for the job and was hired Feb. 1 by Robert Coomer, superintendent of the DOC's historic sites division in Springfield. Her first day as site superintendent was Feb. 6.

With her research background, Dr. Brown said, the new position is attractive. "There are lots of challenges and exploring possibilities at the Mounds," she said.

Her philosophy on the Indian mounds is that the site is foremost a cultural attraction. But she plans to maintain the recreational aspect of the area as well.

"We're still going to have the recreational, day use of the park for picnics," she said. "But the real importance and significance will always be of a cultural resource. That's what we'll always put emphasis on."

"Of course, one of the most important things for the cultural aspect will be a building the museum and interpretive center."

A release of $1.1 million in capital funds during December paved the way for more land acquisition in the Ramey addition, where the museum will be built. The DOC still has to acquire about 25 more homes in the addition.

"We'll be working on that this year and next," Dr. Brown said. "There's nothing much new on the situation. It's going to take time because we're talking about a multimillion dollar operation."

She will work to finance the complex through public funding and private investors. The recent addition of Cahokia Mounds to the World Heritage List may provide an incentive to investors in the complex, she said, adding:

"It certainly gives us an open line for funding. I know of no public funding to apply for, so we hope we can use the prestige to bring us some investors. When you have prestige, you can do that."

In the meantime, Dr. Brown said, she will see to it that her staff maintains and improves the appearance of Cahokia Mounds for visitors.

Fitness Fantasia resumes next week

New sessions of Fitness Fantasia will begin next week at the Tri-City Area YMCA.

Becky Holland will be teaching a class on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 8 for repeaters—people who have taken aerobic dancing before.

Devonna Miller will be teaching a class for beginners from 7 to 8 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesday evenings. Devonna also will teach a class for teenagers from 8 to 9 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays.

Fitness Fantasia is an enjoyable way to look better and feel better. These aerobic dance classes teach correct exercise movements and how to lose fat and firm up. Exercises are designed for special toning of the arms, hips, waist, thighs and abdomen.

The YMCA at 876-7200 has further information.

SERVE BURGLARY WARRANT

Andy Matyas, 10 Nelson Drive, Pontoon Beach, was issued a warrant by the Pontoon Beach Police last week alleging burglary Aug. 9, 1983, of the Fort Tavern on Lake Drive in the village. Bond on the burglary charge is $20,000.

Cloverview hears District V plans

Plans for two annual activities of District V, Garden Clubs of Illinois, were reviewed Monday at an executive board meeting of Cloverview Garden Club at the home of Mrs. B. C. O'Neill, 2102a Pontoon Road.

Part of the business session focused on finalizing programs and exhibits involving the local club and the preparation of a new yearbook. All area garden club officers, board members and committee chairmen were urged to attend the 32nd annual call of District V, scheduled at 10 a.m. March 15 at Rascals Restaurant, Collinsville, when newly elected club presidents will be introduced by Virginia Kaufhold, District V director.

District V's annual meeting will take place at 10 a.m. March 22 at the Holiday Shores Clubhouse in Edwardsville, with members of the Holiday Shores Garden Club serving as hostesses.

At the districtwide event, Lowell Patterson, state forester at Shawnee National Forest, will be the guest speaker.

Other activities will include a horticultural exhibit, with Lillian Heberer serving as chairman, and an artistic design exhibition, supervised by Julia Heberer.

District officers are to be elected at the meeting and club history books will be judged on their outstanding features. It was announced.

Annual reports will be submitted by key leaders in the various clubs and revised copies of the charter and bylaws will be presented.

Those planning to attend the March 22 event are asked to bring various items for sale, with the proceeds to be contributed to the district's ways and means committee, it was announced.

Arbor Day will be observed April 27 and the Federated Garden Clubs of Illinois has set May 1 for the annual statewide meeting, local members were advised.

VFW Auxiliary plans May 18 'Poppy Day'

Plans for the annual Poppy Day, held locally under the auspices of the VFW Auxiliary of Post 1300, were announced at the monthly business session of the organization.

President Shirley Brewster opened the meeting and prayer was offered by Chaplain Francis Aldridge. All members recited the pledge to the flag.

Junior Vice President Carolyn Gilbert and chairman of the poppy fund campaign, extended appreciation to LeVern Mull and Loretta Rose for their continued assistance with the fund raising project. She announced the sale of poppies in the Quad-City area will be conducted on both May 18 and 19.

The auxiliary charter was draped in black in memory of a member, Mrs. Viola Arnold, who died in January. There also was a discussion concerning the 12th District dance and meeting set for March 10-11 at the Granite City post. Donations of cakes for the dessert course are needed and the president requested volunteers to prepare the food.

Freda Blatner also requested donations for the chicken and dumpling dinner scheduled for March 4 at the post. Serving will begin at noon, she added. Fish fry dinners are held at the post each Friday and Mrs. Rose Dowdy, chairman of the project, asked for additional help in preparing side dishes.

The president announced the next meeting will convene at 7:30 p.m. on March 13, and invited all to remain for the social and refreshment hour.

Cindy Rothmeyer crowned Queen of Hearts

Cindy Rothmeyer was crowned queen of hearts at the 27th annual Valentine Ball hosted by the Women of the Moose, Chapter 247, at the Moose Lodge, that was festively decorated in the traditional red and white motifs. Large red hearts accented the walls and the queen's throne. She wore the long red velvet robe and carried a elongated bouquet of red roses. As each member of the court arrived they were presented with a red and white carnation bouquet.

The queen was escorted by her father, Jim Tadlock, and officially crowned by the retiring queen, Sharon McWilliam. Mrs. McWilliam was accompanied by Charles Nichols.

Becky Thompson was the crown bearer and George Rothmeyer served as trophy bearer. Pages included Debbie Anders and Kimberly Kramer.

Attendants to the queen and their escorts, from first to third respectively, were Frances Voyles and Benjamin Voyles, Pam Thomason and Robert Thomason and Millie Rains and Bill Rains.

Honor escorts were past regents and members of the College of Regents, Sylvia Woods, Theola Garcia, Clara Johnson, Jean Teller, Edna Miller and Mildred Votoupal. Senior Regent of the Chapter 247, Mrs. Benetta Boyd was escorted by Moose Lodge 272 governor, Vernon Johnson. Other officers participating in the ceremonial were Pat Macke, chaplain, Marilou Wilkinson, recorder, Lois Smith, treasurer, and Delilah Kramer, junior regent and mistress of ceremonies.

Past queens introduced and given special honors were, Mildred Walker, Jennie Blyen, Margaret Veatch and Theola Garcia.

There approximately 200 members and guests present for the installation and dance that followed. Prizes for the night went to Mary Lee Busler, Earl Johnson, and Paul Dean Lederman.

40 at AARP luncheon

Forty members and guests attended last week's meeting of Granite City Daytime Chapter 3577, American Association of Retired Persons, at the Anchorage Recreation Center.

A catered luncheon was served, courtesy of First Ward Alderman Casmer Skubish.

Virgil Worley, chapter president, opened the meeting with prayer and led the pledge to the flag. He also welcomed several new members, including Carrie Durrell, Sandy Dakins, Lester Gramannan, Mr. and Mrs. Buti Russell, Mary Smallwood, Marie Stanek and Clara Solitroff.

Edna Vorley, secretary, reported activities at a previous meeting and Leona Spickett gave the financial report.

Members were invited to attend the AARP's national convention, which is scheduled April 24 through April 27 at Kiel Auditorium in St. Louis.

The chapter's next meeting was set March 28, starting at 11 a.m., at the Anchorage Recreation Center.

CHAMBER ORCHESTRA TO FEATURE HORN VIRTUOSO

Barry Tuckwell, featured as the "greatest horn player in the world," will perform with the Saint Louis Symphony Chamber Orchestra at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at Powell Symphony Hall, 718 N. Grand Blvd., St. Louis.

The works of Mozart and Haydn will be performed. Ticket prices range from $7 to $21. Those wishing further information may call 1-314-534-1700.

AL BARNES TO DISCUSS LOCAL SPORTS HISTORY

Al Barnes, guest columnist for the Press-Record and a local sports historian, will discuss the development of athletics in the Quad-City area at the next meeting of the Old Six Mile Historical Society, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Monday, March 5, in St. John United Church of Christ, 2301 Nameoki Road.

The public is being invited to attend.

Those planning to attend the March 22 event are asked to bring various items for sale, with the proceeds to be contributed to the district's ways and means committee, it was announced.

VISITING SENIORS. To and Joycee Women's Week, members of the Granite City Joycee Women gave a birthday party for all residents of Colonial Haven Nursing Home. Gifts were distributed and a cake donated by Busy Bee Bakery, along with punch and coffee were served. Standing are Carol Wolford, vice president of the Joycee Women, and Connie Martin, activity director of the nursing home. Seated are Edith Smith, president of the Advisory Council at the nursing home, and Bertha Moll, vice president of the council.

Kindernastics starts March 10

The Tri-City Area YMCA will begin a new Kindernastics class on Saturday, March 10. The class will run for four weeks, meeting Saturday mornings from 10:45 to 11:30 a.m. The class is for children ages 3 to 5 years.

Children participate in group activities and games. The class allows each child to experience balance, taking turns, sharing, and discovering body parts and actions. Children experience making decisions and interacting with children their own age.

Class fee is $8 per child. For more information, parents may contact the YMCA at 878-7200.

Laureate Chapter donates to Beta Sigma Phi projects

The Laureate Alpha Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi members met in the home of Ruth Stoyanoff for a business session at which time communications were read from the International Sorority office.

The International requested members submit favorite recipes for a holiday cookbook and also asked for donations to grants for various foundations of the organization.

Members agreed to send a contribution to the Endowment and Exemplar Fund of Beta Sigma Phi as its annual service project.

Mrs. Arlene Haldeman announced her granddaughter, Jamie Alexander, has been accepted as a Beta Sigma Phi legacy member.

In other business a Valentine card was received from the chapter sponsor, Mrs. Lucille Voyles, and a note of appreciation was read from a boy who is in a group home, and was sent a gift of clothing from the chapter.

The ways and means chairman reported a garage sale will be held in early spring and Norma Rains invited the group to Nameoki United Methodist Church, for a lesson in "smocking," to be presented by Mrs. Joyce Tracy.

As a social evening the chairman reported there is to be a potluck dinner at the home of Evelyn Tolliver on March 24 and the husbands and friends of members are to be invited.

Following the business session, the group held a Valentine gift exchange and made Valentine cards for the sponsor and other friends of the chapter.

A dessert course was served to Dolores Byrnes, Johnnie Calve, Martha Dyer, at a sigaloroff, Arlene Haldeman, Jane Stevens, Delores Dorch, Lora Mae Lombardi, Evelyn Tolliver, Imogene Forrest and those named.

Organ Pedalers celebrate Valentine's Day in music

The monthly meeting of the A.O.A.I. Amateur Organ Pedalers was hosted by Irene Dawes at the National School of Music, 2100 Cleveland Blvd.

Grand Pedaler Carolyn Belling presided over the business segment of the meeting and after the treasurer's report by Great Quarter note Fern House and reading of the minutes by Great Composer Doris Schmidt, a ceramic piano music box, handcrafted by Diane Mason of Fernato's Ceramic Shop, was presented to Mrs. Schmidt for her recent confinement in the hospital. A mug decorated with hearts was also presented to Elizabeth Novachik as an attendance prize.

Plans were made to attend Walton's Smorgasborg in Belleville, on Sunday, March 18, at 6:30 p.m. to hear Bob T. Bell perform on the organ. There is no admission charge but group reservations are necessary by March 15. Also, plans to take a charter bus to Branson, Mo., in the near future, to attend the Opry Shows and the Shepherd of the Hills play was suggested. Invitations to participate in these activities are extended to all interested parties, the president said. For more information, those interested are to call Carolyn Belling at 877-4650, as soon as possible.

Valentine's Day set the theme for the evening and all members played music that referred to matters of the heart, while everyone guessed the titles of the selections played.

Refreshments were served to those named above and to Harvey House, Henry Coleman, Dorothy Alsop, Burel Schmissner, Betty Applegate and guests, Harriet and Bob Patton, and Bill Belling.

The next meeting will be hosted by the club at the National School of Music at March 19 at 7 p.m. An invitation to attend the meetings and join the membership is extended to all interested in music.

Theme for the next meeting will be Irish, in celebration of St. Patrick's Day, it was announced.

Overcomers Choir to sing at Bethel Chapel

The Overcomers Choir from the Ozark Bible Institute will be singing at Bethel Chapel Pentecostal Church, 25th Street and Ohio Avenue, during two services this Sunday.

The first service will begin at 11 a.m. and the second will be at 7 p.m. Sunday. The Rev. D.C. Brannam, president of the Ozark Bible Institute, will be the guest minister for those services.

The Rev. Clifton Galther, pastor of the Bethel Chapel Pentecostal Church, extends his welcome to all persons interested in attending.

E. ST. LOUIS MAYOR WILL ADDRESS PHI DELTA KAPPA

The Gateway East Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa will hold a breakfast meeting Saturday, March 3, at 9 a.m. at Roustio's Restaurant, Route 157, Collinsville. Dr. Roland Alexander, East St. Louis schools' placement specialist, will preside and the speaker will be Carl E. Officer, mayor of East St. Louis. His topic will be "Politics and Education."

GIRL SCOUTS

Derby highlights Roundtable meet

"Wheels, Wings and Rudders" was the theme used by the Univah District Roundtable held at Coolidge Junior High School with a pinewood derby winding up the meeting for adult leaders.

The meeting opened with Cub Scouts Philip Brinker, Mike George, Steve Watkins, Greg Voloski and Wesley Jackson, under the leadership of Larry Brinker, cubmaster of Pack 47 St. Mary's School, doing a recitation of "Plant a Cub Scout Garden."

Leaders Diane and Mike Carrado,

Gerald Gann, Lola Boushard committee-chairmen and Cubmaster Tom Boushard, all of Pack 96 Maryville School PTA, led in the singing of the Pinewood Derby Song. Pat Kirk, den leader Pack 21, Louis Bauer, Mother's Club, demonstrated how to make paper airplanes. Phil Slover, Webelos Leader of Pack 13 St. Elizabeth School, explained the Webelos traveler activity badge using maps and timetables.

As awards ceremony "Climbing the Ladder of Advancement" was performed by Commissioner Carol Fowler with Jim Bringer, commit-tee-man of Pack 141 Mitchell PTA, and Jim Seiz, district chairman performing as parents for Ed Brown, Webelos leader of Pack 103 St. Margaret-Mary, and Pat Kirk who were cub scouts. The cubs were presented with a patch by their parents.

Cub Scouts Lee Baker, Michael Beatty, Matthew Scarsdale and Ricky Schubert of Pack 141 closed the meeting with "This Old Flag" under the leadership of Coleen Bringer, committee chairman and Barbara Schubert, den leader.

Following the closing the adults held their pinewood derby race with the winners being Ed Brown, Jim Seiz, and Fred Mercer respectively. All participants received certificates and prizes from Mercer.

The race was under the leadership of Wayne Hueter, cubmaster, with Lon Weaver providing the charts from Pack 22 Frohardt School PTA.

Each activity was followed with an appropriate cheer led by Bonnie Miller of the training staff with Commissioner Pat Foote presenting each participant with the proper bead for the activity they performed.

Refreshments were furnished by Denise Saska, Pack 22 den leader. Next month's theme will be "Bugs and Things" held on March 13. It was announced that the District Pinewood Derby for eight nine, and 10 year-old cubs who have won the race in their packs will be held on March 17 at Chouteau Township Hall. Registration will begin at 9 a.m. with the race starting at 10 a.m.

The District Scout-O-Rama will be held on May 26. Participants are urged to get in the name of their booth selection by March 1, the cubmaster said.

Cub Scout Pack 22 holds Blue and Gold banquet

The annual Blue and Gold Banquet for Cub Scout Pack 22, sponsored by Frohardt School, was held at the Nameoki United Methodist Church, that was decorated in a appropriate scouting motif.

To open the event members of Den Four posted the colors and the Rev. Jerry Reed gave the invocation, prior to the smorgasbord style dinner provided by the parents of the scouts.

After the dinner hour Cubmaster Wayne Reuter introduced special guests including, District Executive Joe Gosney, Pack 22 Scout Commissioner Pat Foote, Frohardt School principal and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Don Kopp, Frohardt PTA President, Dr. Jack Miller, the host pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Jerry Reed.

The awards presentation opened by Dr. Miller accepting a certificate of recognition for sponsorship on behalf of Frohardt PTA from William Kinder.

An honor unit award was presented to the pack by Commissioner Gosney. In order to achieve an honor unit award the pack must meet certain criteria from the National Boy Scout Council, the cubmaster explained.

Advancement awards for the scouts were presented by Kinder and Mrs. Barb Reuter after which recognition was accorded to den leaders and pack committee members. Trophies were then given out to winners of the January pinewood derby.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by the Ka-Hok Indian Dancers.

The benediction was offered by Rev. Reed after which Den Four retired the colors.

EXTENSION UNITS TO STUDY SPOT REMOVAL

"Spot and Stain Removal for Fabrics" will be highlighted by Extension Advisers Catherine Mauck and Janet Burnett for Homemakers Extension Association unit meetings Tuesday, March 6. Trio unit will meet at noon at Hope Lutheran Church, 3715 Wabash Ave., and the Granite City unit at noon at Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road.

Gospel Mission closes after 65 years

CHURCH HOME TO MANY Quad-Cityans over the past 65 years, the Gospel Mission, 2014 E. 20th St., already has a forlorn, abandoned look since its doors closed for the last time Sunday, Feb. 19. Its founder and superintendent, Mrs. Bethel J. Davis, lies gravely ill with cancer at Fairfax Hospital in Falls Church, Va. The "Mission Behind the Mill" began its existence in the same area of town in 1918 with Sunday School classes in the Davis home and occupied this building since 1946. Founder Bethel Davis gravely ill

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

A landmark in the community has formally changed its main purpose in life with the closing of the Gospel Mission at 2014 E. 20th Street, an institution established here 65 years ago.

"The 'Mission Behind the Mill,'" as it has been known for years, was designed by its founder and superintendent, Bethel J. Davis, as a starting place for those without a church home and to give some foundation to youngsters who never had attended Sunday School nor, in some cases, been influenced by any religious training.

Mrs. Davis, now 87 years old, has been in failing health for the past two years, but has remained active in directing the affairs of the non-denominational church, although frequently homebound for periods of time.

During an unavoidable trip to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Madge O'Connor, in Arlington, Va., the mission founder's condition worsened and she was admitted to Fairfax Hospital in Falls Church, Va., not far from the O'Connor home.

Today, she remains there in a semi-coma, suffering from cancer and related complications, it was learned.

Initially, an announcement was made by Mrs. Davis' family at the Feb. 16 Thursday evening services that the mission would be closed on Sunday, Feb. 19.

Few people were at the mission that night, but news of the closing traveled swiftly and nearly 100 were present at the final services.

Closing down the mission building, owned by Mrs. Davis, has stunned members of the congregation which, admittedly, has dwindled in the past few years.

Granite City Steel, the "Mill" to most people, has greatly expanded in the area of the Gospel Mission and many residents have moved away to other neighborhoods.

All the remaining members, between 20 and 30, and many former members continue to express regret at the decision to close the mission.

Some wonder where they will now meet and others are worried that the building will be vandalized, as no one here has been asked to check on the property; one member of long-standing said this week.

The mission has been the life work of Mrs. Davis and was a spiritual commitment, touching the lives of hundreds and hundreds of individuals.

Upon moving to Granite City in 1918, Mrs. Davis discovered there wasn't any type of church of Sunday school for families living "behind the mill."

Concerned about the religious education of the children in that small, close-knit community of mostly steel workers, she and her husband initiated Sunday afternoon Bible story sessions in their home.

Six small boys and girls attended the first Sunday school in the Davis home.

Two Sundays later, the attendance had increased to 35 and, by Christmastime, a total of 175 children and young people was coming to the services, Mrs. Davis related to the reporter in 1973.

At that time, the Granite City Board of Education offered the use of the former Liberty School in Sunday afternoons.

The school building continued to be the meeting place for 18 years until it was decided to hold services for adults, as well as the children, Mrs. Davis had explained.

Present at the first combined service in 1936 were 12 adults and 60 youngsters.

Attendance, however, increased so quickly that the Davises' rented the Pastor Building, located at 20th and Omaha streets, remaining there for nearly 10 years until the Gospel Mission facility was occupied in July 1946.

On the occasion of the mission's 55th anniversary, Mrs. Davis commented that it was difficult to calculate the number of individuals and families the Gospel Mission has touched and influenced throughout its history.

Nearly every church in the community has members who were baptized and converted at the mission altar, or attended services at the "Mission Behind the Mill" at some point in their lives.

During its 65 years of service to the community, the mission has offered a variety of activities.

In the early years, Mrs. Davis organized a series of Americanization courses, complete with lessons in English, which were helpful to the European immigrants living in the neighborhoods surrounding Granite City Steel.

Vacation Bible School perennially attracted as many as 150 children and Sunday school enrollment averaged 200 youngsters for many years.

The impact of Bethel Davis' personality was felt by many who had never attended the Gospel Mission. She was an enthusiastic member of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club and the Granite City Steel Women's Association, among other organizations.

As recently as three years ago, she walked from her home in the 2100 block of State Street to visit the reporter in St. Elizabeth Medical Center, despite the February day being overcast and snow flurries prevailing.

Evening services at the mission featured guest speakers from many denominations and, in spite of the travel involved, they continued to come from Belleville, St. Louis, Maryville, Collinsville and other locations.

"All are wonderful and dedicated men and are really committed to helping our people at the mission," Mrs. Davis commented more than once.

Dr. George Rosenthal of Belleville is such a man and has been bringing Sunday evening messages to the mission congregation for the past 41 years.

The mission will be greatly missed by many, but Bethel Davis' unfailing spirit of strong determination and optimism, delivered in an unassuming manner, continues to live with us all. Along with her many friends, we wish her well in her current battle.

Reach Out Singers will be at Hope Lutheran on Monday

A live, 60-minute concert of contemporary Christian music will be performed by the Reach Out Singers on Monday, March 5, at 7:30 p.m. at Hope Lutheran Church, 3715 Wabash Ave. The Rev. David Fielding is pastor of the church. There are seven groups of Reach Out Singers including Epiphany. Three travel during the year, with four of the groups doing summer ministry. His ministry takes the young people through the United States, Canada, Scandinavia, Central and Eastern Europe. This tour will be traveling in the United States, Scandinavia and Eastern Europe.

The Reach Out program features familiar hymns, gospel music, medleys and choruses, and is planned with an emphasis on bringing hope to people of all ages. The purpose of the Outreach For Christ ministry is to challenge people to make a commitment to, or a renewal of faith in Jesus Christ. No admission fee will be charged, but a love offering will be taken at the concert.

Promotions for nine at A.O. Smith

A.O. Smith Automotive Products Company, the nation's largest manufacturer of truck and automobile frames, this week announced a series of top level executive appointments.

Paul J. Kemp, company president, said nine have been named new officers of the firm: Paul W. Smaglick, 51, executive vice president; Terrence J. Baudhuin, 45, senior vice president-operations; Alvin J. Prenger, 59, vice president and controller; Edward J. O'Connor, 43, vice president-industrial relations; Frank D. Elschen, 46, vice president-sales; Walter W. Schoof, 55, vice president-product engineering; Donald E. Smith, 49, vice president-quality control; Raymond J. Florina, 56, vice president-manufacturing; and Walter F. Sauthoff, 58, vice president-manufacturing engineering.

Smaglick, an A.O. Smith vice president and assistant general manager of the Automotive Division since 1981, has been involved in division sales since joining the company in 1962. He was general sales manager from 1971 to 1979 when he was named director of sales, product engineering and quality control. Smaglick earned a bachelor of science degree from Marquette University in 1953. He was a jet pilot in the U.S. Air Force in 1954 and 55 and the Wisconsin Air National Guard from 1955 to 58, and held several managerial posts with the Wisconsin Telephone Company before joining A.O. Smith.

Baudhuin, director of operations since 1981, was hired as a management trainee in 1963. The following year he was named supervisor of the production scheduling. Baudhuin became manager of production and material control in 1971, manager of materials in 1974 and director of operations in 1981. He holds a business administration degree from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

Prenger joined A.O. Smith in Kankakee in 1962 as controller and assistant to the vice president of the Consumer Products Division. In 1966, he became treasurer of the company's International Division and was assistant general manager the following year. Prenger joined the Automotive Division in 1969 as controller and later was named director of administration. He is a graduate of International College, Ft. Wayne, Ind., where he earned a degree in accounting.

O'Connor, whose previous job title was director of industrial relations, joined A.O. Smith in 1970 as a labor relations representative. He became a labor relations supervisor two years later and in 1975 was named personnel manager at the company's Granite City plant. O'Connor transferred to Milwaukee in 1977 as labor relations manager. He holds a bachelor of science degree from St. Louis University.

Elschen joined A.O. Smith in 1970 as an accountant executive and became general sales manager in 1979. He handled such accounts as International Harvester, Chevrolet, Buick, Oldsmobile, Pontiac and General Motors of Canada. Elschen had previously been assistant sales manager for Stolper Industries. He has a bachelor of arts degree from Loras College, Dubuque, Iowa, and a master in engineering degree from Notre Dame University.

Schoof joined A.O. Smith in 1957 as a management trainee. He served as an account executive, account engineer and manager of account engineering in succeeding years. He was named general sales manager in 1965 and chief product engineer in 1971. Schoof has a bachelor and master of science degrees in mechanical engineering from the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Smith, who has been manager of quality control since 1979, joined A.O. Smith in 1960 as an industrial engineer following three years as an account executive. Smith coordinated engineering functions between A.O. Smith and major automotive manufacturers such as Chrysler, Cadillac and American Motors. He has a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

Florina joined A.O. Smith in 1954 as an industrial engineer in Granite City. While there he held a variety of supervisory and managerial positions in manufacturing, industrial engineering, parts and assembly and was general superintendent in assembly. Florina studied industrial engineering at Washington University, St. Louis, and industrial management at Southern Illinois University. Sauthoff joined A.O. Smith in 1947 following graduation from the University of Wisconsin, where he earned a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering. Sauthoff held various supervisory posts in the firm's engineering and plant equipment departments from 1949 to 1979, when he was appointed chief manufacturing engineer.

In making the executive appointments, Kemp stressed the highly competitive nature of the industry. Products Company is positioned to seize on market opportunities as they arise.

A.O. Smith began making frames for automobiles before there was an automotive industry. The company developed the first pressed steel auto frame at the turn of the century and, since then, has produced more than 100 million auto frames, 35 million truck frames and 65 million control arm sets.

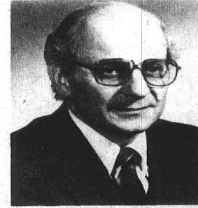

Through the years, the company has manufactured a wide variety of products, ranging from the first lightweight bicycle frame to parts for nuclear submarines. However, its basic business has remained structural components for automobiles and trucks.

Today, A.O. Smith is the world's largest manufacturer of separate, isolated automotive structure, and a leading producer of trailing axles for front wheel drive cars. The division's three plants, in Milwaukee, Granite City and Milan, Tenn., have presses ranging in size from 40 to 4,000 tons.

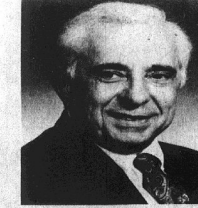

The corporation's leading position in the industry results from technological contributions which include, among others, the invention of the world's first continuous frame manufacturing factory, development of a unique process of heat treating truck side rails to make them stronger, lighter, less costly and of a more consistent quality, and the use of advanced welding techniques to reduce manufacturing costs and improve quality.

MRF memories still haunt researcher

"Through teachers, lecturers, musicians and special consultants, we must more and more take the university to the people. And more and more, we must bring the people to the university. Through short courses, through lectures, through entertaining, through musical programming... we need to stress the esthetic values of music, poetry, art and drama."

Inaugural address of Southern Illinois University President Delyte W. Morris May 5, 1949 Carbondale, Ill.

By CHARLIE SKAER of the Press-Record

Delyte W. Morris' dream became reality in 1983 at the opening of the Mississippi River Festival. That year we had stories to write about the festival. Many of them. Advertised as a "pop, rock and classical" showcase, the festival brought St. Louis area corporations together for the first time to promote entertainment in Illinois. Because businesses from both sides of the river provided funding, Morris' dream appropriately was named the "Mississippi River Festival." The MRF, as it was popularly known, soon became the main drawing card at the young Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Area residents found truth in the popular advertisement that the MRF was "where the stars come out every night."

Come out they did — Bob Hope, the St. Louis Symphony, Doc Severenson, The Who, Harry Chapin, Pat Boone, Judy Collins, James Taylor, Chicago and others. But as the stars kept getting bigger and bigger, so did the bill. As the funding began to dwindle, the university's debts began to snowball. Ticket prices were one of the few things that remained stable, with lawn seating priced at only $3. School officials decided the MRF would die a financial death unless they found a private promoter to take over the festival. In 1979, SIUE President Ken Shaw found that promoter. He signed an 11-year agreement to lease the MRF site to the Nederlander Organization from New York.

Southern Illinois residents breathed a sigh of relief. The MRF had been saved.

Or so we thought. Besieged by security problems, vandalism and an apparent inability to make a profit, the festival lasted only three seasons under Nederlander.

In 1981, the only stars that came out were high in the sky. We soon stopped writing stories about the MRF.

"This year I decided it was time for one more — a look back. That was my mistake."

To get a first-hand look at how vandals and the weather have taken their toll on the outdoor theater, I recently visited the now-defunct MRF site. But I quickly found my truck sinking in the mud near a back road to the stage.

While I trekked to campus for help, the police arrived and decided to have my empty pickup towed.

They also decided to charge me with criminal damage to state property.

My tires left ruts, they said. I knew something was awry when I returned with a friend to the scene and realized my truck was missing. No problem. Just go to the police and ask them where they towed it. I was probably going to have it towed anyway.

"Just have a seat, son," the university policeman said. "An officer wants to talk to you before we let you know where your vehicle is."

About five minutes later the officer arrived in his shiny patrol car, one without mud.

"We're giving you this citation, along with a misdemeanor charge of damaging state property," he said. "The traffic ticket will cost you $50. Here's an envelope to mail your payment in if you decide to plead guilty."

That was the good news. "The judge can fine you whatever he wants for the misdemeanor. I don't know what the towing charge is. And we'll be sending you a bill for having the maintenance crew go out and fix the ruts."

I shuddered. I remembered hearing rumors of how campus maintenance workers charged $75 just to move a desk down the hall to another room.

As my friend drove to where my truck had been towed, he tried to break the solemn mood and humor me.

"Don't worry," he said. "They'll probably only have four guys out there with shovels and another one on a backhoe. It'll probably only take them three hours, by the time they get done drinking their coffee."

"At $10 an hour times three hours for five men, it'll only cost you about $150. But then you have to add in the cost of the gasoline, along with the wear and tear on the backhoe..."

It seems some stories are too expensive to cover. The MRF may be history, but I have the feeling the festival's ghosts will be haunting my wallet for some time to come.

License renewal stickers on sale

Illinois Secretary of State Jim Edgar has announced that more than 1,400 Illinois financial institutions have begun over-the-counter sales of 1985 passenger car renewal stickers.

Edgar said the 1985 stickers went on sale Feb. 1 at 660 banks, 171 savings and loan associations, 16 credit unions and about 600 Chicago area currency exchanges.

"Services at financial institutions have been expanded to include sales of new passenger license plates being renewed this year," Edgar said. "If you have a current license plate with numbers only, you will be issued new plates this year," he explained. "If you want the same plate number, your application can be processed at a financial institution."

This year, 68 banks savings and loan associations and credit unions were added to the program. In 1983, financial institutions sold more than 2.1 million stickers, or 38 percent of all stickers sold by the secretary's office.

Stickers also will be on sale at four secretary of state motor vehicle facilities in Chicago and the Centennial Building and Dirksen Parkway facility in Springfield.

The 1985 renewal stickers are green and should be placed in the upper left corner of the rear license plate or bottom of the new plate.

Financial institutions selling 1985 stickers locally include American Heritage Bank, First Granite City National Bank (two locations), Granite City Trust and Savings Bank (two locations) and First National Bank in Madison.

Nameoki audit not finished; the deadline is tomorrow

By PAT HAY LUTZ
of the Press-Record

The 1982-83 external audit report for Nameoki Township has still not been received by the township. Supervisor Harry Briggs informed trustees Tuesday.

The already-delinquent report, being conducted and prepared by the James Degnan accounting firm of St. Louis, was to have been completed two weeks ago, but Briggs said that he was told by a representative of the firm that the inclement weather prevented the final typing and compilation of the report in time for Tuesday's meeting.

That representative assured Briggs that the report will be finished by Friday, March 2, the deadline given to the township by the state comptroller's office.

Officials from the comptroller's office have indicated that they would accept a late report, but a blatant delinquency might result in the order of an official audit through their office at a cost to the taxpayers.

The late audit report also endangers the township's eligibility for federal revenue sharing funding for the first quarter of 1984 because, according to state law, an external audit report must be performed by a certified public accountant in order to be eligible for the funding.

As approved by trustees at the last regular meeting on Feb. 14, a bid notice inviting bids from local CPA firms on the preparation of the 1983-84 audit report was published in the Press-Record. Copies of this bid notice were sent to CPA firms listed in the Granite City telephone book. Briggs said, and several firms have requested more information. "We've had a pretty good response, so far," Briggs said. "Most of the firms have asked for more information on the report."

The bid notice specified that the report was to be completed within 120 days, a specification that board members hope will eliminate a delay similar to the present problem.

In other business, Tax Collector Norm Hall reported that a recent state Supreme Court ruling enables taxpayers to keep interest money earned on collected taxes invested by the county before being distributed to those taxing bodies.

According to Hall, Madison County has utilized the money earned as interest on taxes and the lawsuit to claim the interest money has resulted in a decision by which taxing bodies may claim all interest money kept by the county since 1976.

Hall suggested that the board opt to start claiming the money "from square one," so as not to put a financial burden on the taxpayers. "They (Madison County) have included the money in their budget every year," Hall said. "If you claim all the money that you are entitled to since 1976, they may have to add a special tax to make up the difference. Agreed, it has been a 'ripoff' to the township, but putting an extra tax on the taxpayers to claim the money would only hurt the taxpayers further," he said.

Responding to suggestions that real estate taxes in Nameoki Township may be lowered with the receipt of the interest money, Supervisor Briggs stated that the interest accumulated in the tax money "only amounts to approximately $6,000 to $7,000 annually, and that wouldn't be enough to lower taxes."

Trustees also approved the issuance of tax anticipation warrants in the amount of $25,000 and $20,000 for the town fund because, according to Briggs, the fund would be depleted if they weren't approved.

"We have to issue these warrants (borrow) because the new year doesn't begin until March 1 and we have bills to pay out of this year's budget," Briggs commented.

Speeding arrests up in Venice

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
of the Press-Record

Arrest figures in Venice were up in January with a total of 144 charges filed against 100 men and 16 women, according to Police Chief Farris Smith who presented the report at the Venice City Council meeting.

In other business, Mayor Tyrone Echols reported he "is pushing hard" to acquire a van for use by the Venice senior citizens.

"THE NEXT step seems to be that we must advertise for bids for a vehicle, which will probably will cost between $3,000 and $15,000," he advised the council.

Mayor Echols has been working with a representative of an area agency on aging in an effort to secure some form of bus transportation for Venice seniors.

In another project of interest to senior residents, the mayor said work is progressing satisfactorily on the new Venice Senior Citizen's Center at Klein and Brown streets.

"THEY (the contracting firm) are right on schedule and have set April 30 as the completion date," he announced.

According to the police chief's report, a $2,674 check was received from Willard V. Portell, clerk of the Madison County Circuit Court, reflecting the amount of fines collected during January.

A total of 88 arrests was made for city traffic violations, mostly involving speeding offenses. The increased number of citations in this category results primarily from the acquisition of a new radar gun by the Venice Police Department.

SEVENTEEN state traffic violations were logged, 14 state ordinance violations and seven city ordinance violations, the report stated.

Fourteen warrants were served and four arrests were effected for other police departments, Chief Smith said.

On the juvenile side, a runaway, was taken into custody during the month.

Fourth Ward Alderman Victor Valentine Sr. commended the police chief and his department members for "the splendid job they did with the amount of traffic, caused by those coming to Venice to purchase lottery tickets," a comment seconded by First Ward Alderman Phillip Daniels.

Bible drama at Union Missionary

The Union Missionary Baptist Church, 799 Canal St., Brooklyn, is inviting area residents to attend a Biblical drama, "Here Comes the Judge."

The play will be performed at 5 p.m. Sunday. The drama is based on the Book of Revelations from the New Testament, according to the Rev. John Henry Williams.

The Rev. Freddie Butler is pastor of Union Missionary.

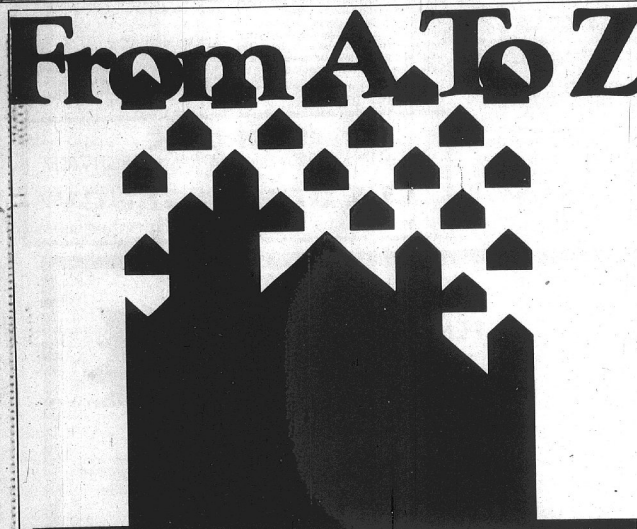

Yoga fitness to start at YMCA

Yoga fitness will again be taught at the YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave., beginning this Monday. The classes are intended to provide exercise, to relieve tension and to energize the body.

Ellen Wilson will guide participants from noon to 12:45 p.m. each Monday, Tuesday and Thursday at the 'Y.' The fee will be $6 for members and $15 for others.

PURSE GONE FROM CAR
Sharon Morris of Granite City parked her auto in the alley next to Swiss Farms, 1308 Nineteenth St., at 1:40 p.m. Monday and was in the store about one minute when an employee said two youths were near the car. Upon going outside, she discovered her shoulder purse containing $170, driver's license, personal papers and keys had been stolen from the vehicle.

Summer music camps at SIUE

Six week-long music camps—in jazz, strings, piano, chorus, band and computers—will be offered in the Summer Arts 1984 program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville by the department of music. The camps will be coordinated by Leonard Van Camp, professor of music.

The jazz, strings and piano camps will be held during the week of June 11-15; the camps in chorus and band will run June 18-22, while the computer camp is set for Aug. 13-17.

DIRECTED BY Brett Stamps, the jazz camp will be offered to students from grades eight to 12. It will cover the following areas: ensemble performance; introduction to jazz theory and master classes (with an introduction to important jazz/rhythm styles). A special guest artist will perform and assist with the camp, in addition to SIUE jazz faculty and students.

The strings camp will be directed by Kent Perry and Joseph Pival, professors of music at SIUE. It will be open to students from grades nine to 12. There will be daily intensive coaching of string chamber ensembles by the Lincoln String Quartet, and master classes and informal recitals by students and faculty. Individual practice time will be available daily.

Qualified junior high school students are welcome, as well as more advanced high schoolers. Groups will be organized on the basis of performing and sight-reading ability, and by teacher and conductor recommendations.

KAREN ROGERS, Marion Lampe and the internationally famous concert artist Ruth Slenczynska will guide the piano camp, open to students from grades six to nine. It will include the following activities: private lessons; master classes; ensemble classes; keyboard skills classes and theory classes.

Special sessions will also be given on the construction and care of the piano by the university's tuner/technician and on ways to practice effectively. Students enrolling are expected to have repertoire prepared and memorized before the camp opens.

THE BAND CAMP, for students from grades eight to 12, will be under the charge of Marcia LaRue, director of the SIUE University Band. It will bring together a symphonic wind ensemble of the area's finest high school performers, rehearsing a stylistic and historical perspective of music selections. The importance of music theory, history, and aural skills to performance will be emphasized.

A SPECIAL percussion chamber ensemble will be offered. Specific attention will be given to instrumental techniques through master classes and clinics with specialists in each instrument. The ensembles will each present a final concert.

Designed for students from grades nine to 12, the choral camp will begin by teaching fundamentals of good choral singing: posture, relaxation, breathing, attack, release, blend, balance, intonation, diction and interpretation. According to director Leonard Van Camp, there will be a concentration on principles of good singing and good musicianship through a wide variety of choral music of many styles and types, both "serious" and "lighter." A final performance will be given for parents, friends and teachers.

THE COMPUTER music camp will be directed by Warren Joseph, a composer and professor of music at SIUE. It is designed for students from grades seven to 12. Group and individual activities will be provided for students with a wide variety of backgrounds and interests. Composition, performance and theory of music are included.

No previous experience with computers or keyboards is necessary. Supplies and materials will be provided, including computer generated manuscripts of student musicians. However, recording tapes or disks are not included. The lab will be open evenings.

Each camp will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. The cost per student for any of the camps is $50. This includes all materials, with a few exceptions. The deadline for applications is May 1. For application forms and supplementary information, interested persons may write to Leonard Van Camp, Coordinator SIUE Music for Youth, Box 71, SIUE, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026.

BAC gives new students a packet for 'success'

Learning what Belleville Area College has to offer to a first-time student is easier than ever. This spring, new students at BAC were given an orientation to the school, a new placement test and a "success packet."

The key to the changes is the new placement test, ASSET. ASSET takes only 1 1/4 hours, half the time of the old placement test. The hour and a half gained by switching to ASSET is used to give students more information about the school and the services it offers to its students.

WHILE THE tests are being scored, counselors give the students an orientation program outlining the facilities and services of the school. There also is a group advisement session.

"Success packets" are also handed out to the students. The packet includes:

The 14th annual Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Antique Show and Sale will be the largest ever, featuring 33 dealers. For the first time, a coin dealer will have a booth at the event, according to Stella Simon, executive secretary of the Friends of Lovejoy Library.

The show and sale will run two days, March 10 to 11, in Meridian Ballroom in the University Center. It will be open from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturday and from noon to 6 p.m. on Sunday. Proceeds from the sale will benefit Lovejoy Library.

WITH THE increase in dealers, the variety of items has also grown. This year's show will see clocks, books, bronzes and coins, in addition to the more traditional items like furniture, rare china, glass and crystal, dolls, antique jewelry, framed antique prints, pottery and "plenty of what have you." There should be something to fulfill every antique lover's dream," Mrs. Stinson said.

Admission is $2 at the door, and $1.50 if tickets are purchased in advance. Children under 13, accompanied by an adult, are admitted free.

Tickets are available at the information desk and the inter-library loan desk in Lovejoy Library, SIUE, Box 83, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026. Free parking for this event will be available adjacent to the University Center.

WHERE HAS MA BELL GONE? Mitchell Woodard (left) and John Cange rehearse in the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville opera workshop for the upcoming production of Gioacchino Rossini's "The Telephone," which will be presented with "The Old Man and the Thief." The operatic double-bill is scheduled March 2 and 3 at 8:15 p.m. in the Communications Building Theater. (SIUE Photo) cludes a current college catalog, a needs assessment plan, a registration form and a time management sheet.

The scored placement tests are then returned to the students and the counselors are available to help students interpret the results.

ASSET REPLACES the Special Needs Assessment Program (SNAP) test previously given at the school. The new test is given to most incoming students.

Students completing the new test are required to see a counselor before they can register for classes.

All new students taking three or more college credit classes are required to take ASSET. All students taking college credit math or English courses for the first time will also have to take the test.

FOR INFORMATION on the test, students may contact the Counseling Center, 1-233-2700, extension 206.

5 SIUE students awarded scholarships

Five students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville are sharing in a $3,500 grant to provide scholarship assistance for minority and women students from the times Mirror Corporation.

According to Susan Camp, community relations administrator for Times Mirror, the university was selected for support by the management of the corporation's subsidiary, television station KTVI-TV, Channel 2, and by citizens interested in increasing the educational opportunities for students seeking technical and other broadcast-related training.

THE FUNDS were distributed on the basis of academic excellence and promise of success in the field. The following students received grants of $700 each: Peggy Battis, Edwardsville; Beth Breitswiler, Jerseyville; Susan Kiefer, St. Louis; Linda Ledford, Edwardsville, and local resident Kimberly Woodward, Granite City.

In expressing appreciation to the Times Mirror, President Earl Lazerson observed: "The SIUE department of mass communications broadcast-related training programs regularly attract a large number of the outstanding men and women from Southwestern Illinois and the greater St. Louis metropolitan area. The scholarship assistance made possible by your gift will allow us to provide support to worthy minority and women students in these programs."

Bands to battle at SIUE

Four area bands will have the chance to win the "Battle of the Bands," Wednesday, March 7, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The free competition is scheduled from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. in the Goshen Lounge of the University Center. The competition is open to student and community bands.

At the competition, each band will play one 15-minute set each hour. Each act will receive from one to five points from five judges for each of the following categories: appearance, costume, sound quality, originality, professionalism, audience rapport, audience reaction, use of special effects, overall impression and degree of difficulty. Four of the judges will be students, and one will be a disc jockey from a local radio station.

FIRST PRIZE is $100 and an engagement from 7 until 10 p.m. at the Tower Lake Commons Building the evening of the competition. The winning band will receive $200 from the Tower Lake Program Committee.

tee (TLPC) for playing at the Commons Building. Second prize is $75 and third is $50. The fourth place band will receive $25.

The "Battle of the Bands" is sponsored by the Student Program Board (SPB) and TLPC. For more information, interested persons may contact the SPB office, Room 108 in the University Center, telephone 1-692-2617.

Granite City Center

STUDENTS AT THE GRANITE CITY CENTER of Belleville Area College now have access to thousands of books in the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (SIUE) system. A computer terminal recently installed in the library at GCC allows the librarians to check the university's book list for volumes requested by GCC students.

Librarians then ask SIUE to send the books to GCC. The arrangement gives students access to many more volumes than the GCC library can hold.

THE MOVIE "FLASHDANCE" will be shown Wednesday, March 7, at Granite City Center of Belleville Area College. The showing will be at 5 p.m. Wednesday in the cafeteria at the college's Granite City Center, 4850 Maryville Road, Granite City. Admission is free.

"Flashdance" was one of 1983's big hits. Newcomer Jennifer Beals portrays Alex, a young welder whose passion is dancing. She fights the odds to pursue her dream of becoming a professional dancer. Her audition for a dance company, done to the movie's hit theme song, is a highlight of the film. Dramatic dance sequences also take place at Mawbry's Bar, where aspiring dancers execute their elaborate numbers on flashy, high-tech stages.

Belleville Area College

IT'S NOT TOO LATE to register for a spring class at Belleville Area College's Collinsville extension center. Nurse Assistant will meet from 4 to 9:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday for six weeks beginning Monday, March 5. For information or to register, students may call BAC/Collinsville Coordinator Ronald Ganschmiedt, 1-945-5356, extension 320.

SIU and Edwardsville

AUDITIONS FOR ACTORS, singers, dancers and technical theater personnel for the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Summer Show-Biz '84 company will be conducted in the Communications Building theater, March 3-4.

Those seeking an audition should prepare a two-minute monologue and a song. If casting in the musical is desired, Auditionees should come with photo, resume, and audition sheet music. Technical personnel should bring a portfolio of theater work and experience. Appointments for auditions should be made in advance by calling 1-692-2773.

THE SCHOOL OF NURSING at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will conduct the first lecture in its Nursing Leadership Lecture Series, Tuesday, March 6. Sponsored by a grant from the Division of Nursing, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, the lecture is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. in the conference area of the University Center.

Speaker for the evening will be Rozella Schlotfeldt, professor and dean emerita of the School of Nursing at Case Western Reserve University. The topic of her presentation will be "Role Development in Nursing: A Futuristic Perspective." The lecture is free and the public is invited to attend.

Memorials

IN LOVING memory of our daughter, JANICE SHANKEL, Feb. 28, 1975. The gift of love is a treasure. God taught us how to give, and proved it beyond all measure, when He sent His son to die. It's the Master's love that keeps us in God's eternal will, when we're caught in this world's problems, we hear His peace be still. It is this same love that sustains your mom and dad today, because we miss our precious Jan more than mortal words can say. - Sadly missed by Mom and Dad. 32 31

IN LOVING memory of our dear niece, JAN SHANKEL, who passed away Feb. 28, 1975. Sadly missed by Aunts and Uncle. 32 31

IN LOVING memory of MARIE COCHRAN, Feb. 29, 1980. - Sadly missed by son, Jack. 32 31

IN LOVING memory of JOHN A. McAMISH, March 7, 1977. Today recalls sad memories of a loved one gone to rest, those who think of you today are the ones who loved you best. What we would give to see you smile, hear you often sit and think of you, things we used to say and do, we wonder why you and to die without a chance to say goodbye. Our hearts aches with sadness, our eyes shed many tears. God knows how much we miss her, after seven lonely years. - Sadly missed by Mr. William A. McAmish, Mrs. Gladys McAmish, Mr. George and Charles McDowell, and Marie Scott, Grandchildren, Great-Grandchildren, and all who loved her. 32 31

Percy criticizes opposition to LTV-Republic Steel merger

U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) has criticized the Justice Department's decision to oppose the proposed merger of LTV and Republic Steel and suggested that the government could help the steel industry by not impeding moves toward greater efficiency.

Addressing a dinner meeting of the South Chicago Chamber of Commerce, Percy said, "Perhaps the best policy the government can pursue in order to help the steel industry, is to back off and let economic forces take their course."

"For years now, the industry has been told to clean up its act — to become more efficient and more productive," Percy said. "U.S. producers have been urged to modernize — and indeed consolidate — their operations in order to better challenge their overseas competition without resorting to quotas and other protectionist tools. And yet, at the same time that we are encouraging producers to consolidate, the Justice Department acts to prevent that from happening."

Percy pointed out that in determining that the LTV-Republic merger would create excessive market concentration, the Justice Department had not taken into full account Japanese and European imports or increased exports from Third World nations in calculating the size of the market.

"In doing so, the department failed to recognize the reality of the situation as it now exists," Percy said.

"Foreign competition is not the figment of anyone's imagination. Whether the Justice Department recognizes it or not, competition exists and will not go away. The fact is that what was once a domestic market for steel has now become a world market."

Foreign producers currently account for 22 percent, more than one out of every five tons, of all steel sold in the United States. Third World nations supply the U.S. with 44 percent of that amount.

Percy urged the Justice Department to reconsider its decision on the LTV-Republic merger. "The LTV-Republic merger was not opposed by the steel industry or the steel labor leadership," Percy said. "It was hailed by the financial community, the press and many members of government who accepted it as a positive, serious approach by these two companies to solve their own problems." Percy added, "Only the Justice Department has seen fit to block it. It's time we recognize that actions like this contribute to an industrial policy that makes no sense. It's time that government worked with business and labor, and not against them, to solve our problems and to encourage more efficient production. After all, we're all working toward the same end — to see a strong and healthy steel industry thrive in America."

The Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation, a subsidiary of LTV, has facilities in East Chicago, Indiana and in Hennepin, Ill. The East Chicago facility employs 6,700 and the Hennepin facility employs 800. Republic Steel has a major facility in Chicago, which employs 4,300.

Now, dining takes on a whole new flavor.

Mesquite-charbroiled seafood and steaks.
 The specialty of the house at the beautiful new Black Swan Restaurant, now open in Collinsville. And it's well worth experiencing. Each tender morsel is flame-kissed to perfection over mesquite wood, imparting an indescribable flavor that's nothing short of superb.

A new dimension in dining pleasure.
 Every menu selection is an adventure in good taste. From the spectacular seafood from three coasts, and the Great Lakes, to the devilishly decadent desserts and ice cream cocktails. Simply divine!

Surroundings as tasteful as the entrees.
 From the moment you enter The Black Swan, you'll know it's more than just another place to eat. The decor tells you it's elegant! But the atmosphere tells you it's warm and friendly. As perfect for the entire family as it is for a dinner for two.
 Complete with entertainment Monday through Saturday in the Three Feathers Lounge.

You can savor us now.
 The Black Swan Restaurant, like its graceful namesake, is something rare indeed. A place at once unique and unusually inviting. Where dining will take on a whole new flavor—one you'll want to savor often.
